FIGHT LOOMS ON NEW BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(UP)—The house by voice vote today passed a resolution by Rep. John Cochran, D., Mo., setting up a committee to draft a new governmental reorganization bill.

The vote was taken after spirited debate in which the Republicans, voting solidly against the Democrats, failed by 153 to 102 to block a motion which put the resolution to final passage.

They assailed the section of the resolution which waived points of order against any bill brought in by the special committee for consideration.

New Fight Looms

Republicans contended that under this provision the Democrats could bring in a bill giving the president, in effecting reorganization of top-heavy government bureaus and agencies, the power to juggle appropriations at his pleasure.

"This is the last crack we'll get at this," pleaded Rep. Everett M. Dirksen, R., Ill. "Let's strike out this section, and still hold on to the money bags."

BLINDED BY STORM, PEDESTRIAN KILLED

Her vision obstructed by rain as she crossed Coast highway North near her home in Laguna Beach, Miss Lillian Zimpher, 55, 1280 Coast highway North, was fatally injured by an automobile last night. Her death is the fifth in Orange county traffic this year.

Miss Zimpher assertedly walked directly into the path of an automobile operated by Frank W. Winfree, 5913 Eighth avenue, Los Angeles, while he, Mrs. Winfree and two children were traveling northward.

Winfree stopped and gave immediate assistance, according to witnesses, and Officer Howard Allanson of the Laguna Beach police department rushed Miss Zimpher to the office of Dr. B. B. Mason where she was pronounced dead.

Plan Inquest

An inquest is pending, according to Deputy Coroner Bert Casteix. The body was removed to the Laguna Beach funeral home where the inquest will be held and funeral arrangements made. Miss Zimpher, a native of Iowa where several relatives live, also has relatives in Long Beach. She lived in Laguna Beach more than two years and for many years, prior to her recent retirement, was a social welfare worker.

According to Santa Ana police, Jose Reyes, 3, a pedestrian, was slightly injured yesterday on East First street at the Southern Pacific tracks when struck by a truck operated by Oliver Arnett, 39, 419 Halladay street, Santa Ana. The Reyes boy lives in the Santa Fe railroad section house.

British Study

Hitler's Speech

LONDON, Feb. 1.—(UP)—The cabinet met today to examine the international situation in the light of Fuehrer Adolf Hitler's speech and to prepare for a more vigorous stand by Great Britain in international affairs.

Today's meeting was the regular weekly one but a special session will be held tomorrow to discuss defense rearmament and the strategic situation in the Mediterranean, where Lord Gort, chief of the imperial general staff, is now inspecting British defenses.

Foreign observers are convinced that Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's speech in parliament yesterday and the recent bristling speeches by other cabinet members show that the British government now apparently feels that British armaments have progressed far enough to permit Britain to take a less "appeasing" attitude towards the dictators.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(UP)—An increasing bloc of Senators demanded today that President Roosevelt inform the country fully about his policy of giving France and Britain material aid in building up their defenses against aggressor states.

OAKLAND, Cal., Feb. 1.—(UP)—Attorney General Earl Warren today announced investigation of the affairs of Mark Lee Meglader, former secretary to ex-Governor Frank F. Merriam, may involve "other persons of prominence," particularly in Southern California and possibly the race track industry there.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., R., Mass., today introduced a resolution to force the secretary of the treasury to reveal operations of the 2,000,000,000 stabilization fund.

Lodge told the Senate that operations of the fund might endanger this country's world position, and that the public was entitled to know what was being done with it.

Press Time Bulletins

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Sen. William E. Borah, R., Idaho, was taken to emergency hospital in an ambulance today and it was reported without confirmation that he was suffering from pneumonia.

There were conflicting reports as to the exact nature of the 73-year-old Senator's illness. His office said he was suffering from lagrippe. Offices of his physicians said he was suffering from influenza. A hospital assistant said his illness had turned into pneumonia.

Wrapped in blankets, Borah was carried into the hospital. Mrs. Borah, her face streaked with tears, had accompanied him in the ambulance.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini reviewed 20,000 of his Fascist militiamen today with Viktor Leutze, commander of the German Nazi Storm Troops, standing at his side.

The militiamen, and foreign diplomats in Rome, had expected that Il Duce would make use of the occasion, a celebration of the 16th anniversary of the founding of the militia, to make a speech, and perhaps give a lead on his anxiously awaited campaign for concessions from France.

Remains Silent

Last year, on the anniversary, he told his militiamen to "crush all obstacles until your goal is reached."

Today, he remained silent.

At the start, Mussolini, standing on the steps of the Victor Emmanuel monument, distributed medals to militiamen who had distinguished themselves in the Ethiopian and Spanish civil wars. He pinned medals on 50 women whose husbands, fathers or sons had been killed in action.

California Shivers; Cold Snap To Continue

Santa Ana and Orange county shivered last night and today as freezing temperatures were reported in several parts of the county and County Agricultural Commissioner Dixon W. Tubbs warned growers that the sharp weather would probably continue through tonight and early tomorrow.

Several points in the county reported temperatures as low as 28 degrees for a short time and 30 for several hours but no damage was incurred, Tubbs said. Nursery stock may have been nipped by the frost but a check-up today failed to reveal any serious difficulty.

Warns Ranchers

"If the northerly winds continue and it seems likely that they will, ranchers are warned to be on the look-out for cold weather tonight and early tomorrow morning," Tubbs warned.

Frost, snow and hail laid a white crust on most of California today and weather bureaus predicted the wintry snap would continue several days.

From the Oregon line to the Mexican border, the state felt the first sharp bite of winter, but crops apparently withstood the cold without extensive damage.

Mercury Falls

Zero weather was reported at Badger Pass in Yosemite national park. It was 12 above on the valley floor. Freezing temperatures were common in the central valley and along the coast, extending as far south as Santa Ana, Corona and Riverside.

New snow flurries over northern mountain areas were predicted.

GROUP IN DRIVE TO REPEAL SOCIAL SECURITY MEASURE

FRESNO, Calif., Feb. 1.—(UP)—Under the banner of "The Citizens' Legion," 15 Fresno and Madera businessmen and employers on a small scale embarked today on a drive to repeal the social security act.

Led by John A. Martin, a Fresno contractor and World War veteran who said he wished himself described as "a patriot working for true democracy," the group attacked the security act on two main points:

1.—It is tending to drive the small businessman out of business through "exorbitant" taxation.

2.—Those who believe in the act have been "sold down the river" because the government is using up reserve funds with which future benefits were to be paid.

REVEAL TWO BILLIONS SPENT FOR SOCIAL SECURITY, RELIEF

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Chairman Arthur J. Altmeyer of the social security board told the house ways and means committee today that federal payment to individuals for relief and social security totaled approximately $2,500,000,000 from July 1, 1937 to June 30, 1938.

Presenting the administration position on proposed revision of social security laws to include 16,000,000 excluded under the present acts, Altmeyer said that social security legislation has demonstrated it will work.

Seen as Cushion

Altmeyer pictured the social security program as firmly established, and of great benefit in "cushioning" the drop in wages and national income in times of recession. He said most of the funds paid to unemployed and aged, blind and dependent children, were "immediately spent for food, clothing, shelter and other necessities of life."

"These funds stimulate lagging business and industrial activity in times of recession," Altmeyer said. "This is particularly evident in small communities."

"As long as periodic unemployment recurs, industry and the community have a responsibility to help the workers prepare to care for themselves."

Rebuild Reserves

In 1938, he said, $400,000,000 was paid out to 3,800,000 temporarily unemployed wage earners; 2,500,000 blind, aged and dependent children were receiving regular cash benefits; and 42,500,000

WAR DECLARATION PLANNED BY JAPAN

TOKYO, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita disclosed today that "government circles" were considering a formal declaration of war against China which would entail suspension of extra-territorial rights of foreign powers in China.

The term "government circles" was interpreted to mean that actual sections of the government, presumably army men, were considering the advisability of a war declaration.

Koichi Seko asked a question in the budget committee of parliament which brought the answer from Arita:

Favor New Policy

While Japan might voluntarily pay consolation money in order to restore the losses of foreign powers in China, the government feels that indemnities ought rightfully to be collected from the Chinese government.

"Recently a more drastic attitude has been advocated among government circles, which are urging a frank proclamation that a state of war exists. Under a state of war military action precludes extra-territorial and other rights and interests of foreign powers."

Food Poisoning Investigated

County health authorities today were investigating asserted wholesale illness among guests at an Orange chamber of commerce banquet held January 16 in the Orange Woman's club building, about 35 per cent of the 375 present being attacked later by what appeared to be food poisoning, according to Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer.

The exact source of the asserted difficulty, said Dr. Sutherland, had not been determined, but "infected organism isolated from various patients all are of a type usually meat born," he stated.

The investigation still is under way.

Railroad Plans Hit By Senator

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont., chairman of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, reported to Congress today that current plans for financial reorganizations of railroads are "harbingers of renewed insolvency."

In the first of a series of reports on his committee's investigation of the financial experience of the Missouri Pacific and Wabash railroads as cases in instance.

"With a third of our railroad mileage now in the process of reorganization, we must see to it that future reorganizations are sounder and more permanent than typical reorganizations of the past," Wheeler said.

DELAY PAROLE HEARING SAN QUENTIN PRISON, CAL.

FEB. 1.—(UP)—The state board of prison terms and paroles today postponed until April any action on the parole application of Gilbert Bessmeyer, Los Angeles embezzler, serving a 40 year term on 10 counts of grand theft.

Bessmeyer was sentenced in 1931 after his conviction in an $8,000,000 embezzlement in connection with building and loan operations. It was indicated the prison board might act on Bessmeyer's application before April if its investigation is completed before that time.

Stricken

Seriously ill, Senator William E. Borah, above, was rushed to emergency hospital early today. Reported to be a victim of pneumonia, the 73-year-old solon was accompanied to the hospital by his wife.

Solons Rap Secrecy Shrouding U. S.-French Army Plane Deal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Referring to the secrecy imposed by President Roosevelt upon Senate committees with whom he discussed foreign policy and the activities of a French air mission in this country, Sen. Hiram W. Johnson, R., Cal., asked today: "Are we on the road to war?"

"In the answer," Johnson continued, "every American has an interest and deep concern."

Raps Secrecy

"If our present dealings with the French mission or any of the secrets now whispered about Washington indicate this, the American people are entitled to know. If we are playing some supposedly diplomatic game that may place us in an equivocal position in the future, the American people are likewise entitled to know it."

"To tell a committee of the Senate in secrecy what concerns not only the Senate but all our people, is to invite distortion and misapprehension of the facts."

Protests against secrecy surrounding Mr. Roosevelt's off-the-record talk with the Senate military affairs committee may reach the Senate floor.

New Policy?

The committee members conferred with him yesterday. They discussed the fact that the administration was aiding the French air mission which has $65,000,000 with which to purchase 600 American-made fighting planes.

Many here swung to the conclusion that the administration had actively undertaken a policy

Crash Victim Is Granted Damages

Ralph Strandt, 19-year-old youth who suffered fractures of the skull, nose and both jaws; destruction of his left eye, and loss of eight teeth, in an automobile crash near Irvine April 28, 1935, yesterday obtained superior court approval of his compromise damage settlement with John W. Cannon, who paid him $3500.

Judge George K. Scovel at the same time authorized payment from this settlement of $237.78 to cover costs, and a third of the remainder, or $1089, to Strandt's attorney, Charles D. Swanner.

Badgett, 35, a construction foreman, was plainly bewildered by the multiple births. He mopped his brow and grinned.

Doctors and the Badgetts had expected twins, possibly triplets, but quadruplets had not even been thought of. Their individual weights ranged from three pounds 13 ounces to four pounds nine and a half ounces.

"Well, this puts me head and shoulders above Eddie Cantor," Badgett said. He only has five daughters. Now I have six."

LABOR HEADS GIVE DETAILS OF WORK

That the Orange County Central Labor Council does not have jurisdiction over union work to be done on the Prado dam was revealed here last night at a special meeting of officials of the council at the new labor temple at 413 West Fourth street. J. E. Emerson, business agent for the hod-carriers and laborers made the report.

Due to a misunderstanding it was erroneously reported that the Orange county group would be the clearing house for all laborers on the project.

The Orange County Central

Labor Council has complete jurisdiction over its members so far as work in the county is concerned. Sam Westheimer, secretary, pointed out, thereby eliminating all but key men coming into the county for public projects.

"If the county supervisors had taken full advantage of the opportunity offered by the California Employment Service in clearing workers, both skilled and unskilled, in flood control projects, much of the dissatisfaction of labor in the county could have been eliminated," Westheimer said.

Supervisors Get Dun For 96 Cents

The county supervisors yesterday received a dun for 96 cents, representing the county's share of a pumping plant charge of $11.64, covering an 85-acre tract near Buaro road, which includes the county's seven-acre gravel pit. Secretary Rhodes, of the pumping plant group, accompanied the bill with an apology for delay in presentation.

The board discussed the debt briefly. "I move we accept the apology," said Supervisor N. E. West. However, he added an amendment that the bill be paid, also. The motion carried.

BULKHEADS SEEN AS BEACH PROTECTION

In a report filed with the board of supervisors late yesterday, relating to damage caused to the beach front by recent high tides and ground swells at Sunset Beach, County Counsel James E. Walker recommended steps to protect Ocean avenue at that point with bulkheads, this being a county thoroughfare.

Conditions along the street varied, said Walker, and some property owners wanted bulkheads placed at their property line, while others favored locating the bulkheads some 20 feet into the street. Walker suggested it might be feasible to have County Highway Superintendent A. A. Beard designate a line on which the bulkheads could be placed, to meet varying conditions.

P. E. Completes Work At Hansen To Avert Floods

The Pacific Electric railway company has completed improvements in the Hansen area that, it believes, will relieve flood conditions caused by storm waters accumulating in the vicinity, according to a report it filed with the county supervisors yesterday.

The board has passed a resolution last December 6 requesting the Pacific Electric to lower its tracks at Hansen, so that storm waters would not be backed up. A conference between railway officials and Supervisor Harry D. Riley followed and it was decided that temporary measures, including construction of a culvert at Ball road, and cleaning a gutter that carried drainage, would relieve conditions.

This work now has been completed, the railway company's communication informed the board yesterday.

TRANSFERRED

MIDWAY CITY, Feb. 1.—Clyde Day who is connected with the Government Bureau of Internal Revenue and Alcoholic Tax Unit has been transferred to Agnew, in the San Jose district, as Revenue officer, store keeper and gauger. The transfer is slated for one month, unless later orders lengthen appointment. Day has been employed in a like capacity in Orange and Los Angeles counties for several years, his last station being Los Angeles. He reported for duty at the new station Monday.

Two Hurt In Accidents; Victim On Monday Still Unconscious

Two persons were injured in three automobile accidents in Orange county last night. Kenneth Thompson, 27, of Doheny Park, had his left leg broken and suffered body bruises when he was struck by a car driven by L. C. Mitchell, of 305 East Fourth street, Santa Ana.

The accident occurred at Capistrano Beach at 6 o'clock last night. Thompson was brought to the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

Tries to Avert Mishap

According to a report of the accident, Thompson and two other men started to cross the highway in front of Mitchell's car, the machine striking Thompson as the driver attempted to avoid hitting the three pedestrians.

Miss Mary Jane Cox, 19, of 214 Owens drive, Santa Ana, escaped with shock and bruises when the machine she was driving crashed into a telephone pole on North Main street at 5:15 p. m. yesterday. The car apparently hit a bump and then swerved into the pole, it was reported. She was taken to her home.

Still Unconscious

V. A. Tripp, 36, of Old Orange County road, Newport Beach, and Rafael Doaz, 38, of Santa Ana Rt. 2, box 135, escaped injuries when their cars were involved in an accident at Culver road and 101 highway, at 7 o'clock last night.

Henry E. Bates, 45, of Los Angeles, who suffered serious head injuries in a head-on collision on Coast boulevard Monday night had not regained consciousness today. He is at the Santa Ana Valley hospital and is believed to have fractured skull.

Firemen Respond To Five Alarms

Santa Ana firemen were called out five times yesterday, last night and this morning on minor investigations, according to reports.

A stove ventilator, coming in contact with frost on the roof of the J. E. Prentice home, 1660 East First street, this morning, caused alarm when the frost became "steam," but no damage resulted. At 8:25 p. m. yesterday, a defective gas jet resulted in $10 damage at the home of Mrs. May J. Sharps, 810 North Broadway, and caused minor burns on the hands of H. E. Hayes, a roomer.

At 8:20 p. m., shorts in the wing of a 1929 Ford coupe belonging to M. H. Truran, Newport road, Tustin, sent the fire fighters to Fifth and Main. Little damage resulted. Another car, a 1931 Chevrolet coach belonging to C. A. Ford, was not damaged at 3:20 p. m. at 329 East Fourth when it backfired and caused a small blaze. The firemen were called shortly before the Chevrolet fire to aid a local woman who was overcome by gas fumes. She is improving nicely today.

CHEST COLDS

Here's Quick Relief from Their DISTRESS!

The annoying discomforts of a cold in chest or throat, generally ease when soothing, warming Musterole is applied.

Better than a mustard plaster, Musterole gets action because it's NOT just a salve. It's a "counter-irritant"; stimulating, it penetrates the surface skin and helps to quickly relieve local congestion, aches and pains due to colds.

Used by millions for 30 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. In three strengths: Regular, Children's (mild) and Extra Strong. 40¢. Approved by Good Housekeeping Bureau.

City, County News In Brief

Burglary of the Mildred M. Bush cafe, Cypress, and the La Rue general store and meat market nearby, during the past two days, was still under investigation today, according to sheriff's officers. It was revealed that $1000 worth of credit accounts were taken in the La Rue burglary which netted approximately $200 in cash and groceries. The credit accounts, together with $4000 in insurance policies, were in a cash register which was part of the loot. Two vending machines and scores of cans of food, together with meats from the meat department, were taken from the La Rue place.

A special water baptismal service will be held at the Full Gospel Assembly church, 1600 West Third street, at 7:30 p. m. today with the Rev. E. L. Friend, pastor, officiating. Esther Mae Cooper, evangelist, will be the speaker at the services. Rev. Friend announced that revival services will be conducted all this week except Saturday.

Alex Johnson of Berkeley, secretary-treasurer of the California Farm Bureau federation, will discuss state activities when directors of the Orange County Farm Bureau meet tomorrow at 8 a. m. Johnson also will speak at the officers' training school Friday night.

"How can Europe avoid war?" will be the question discussed at the weekly Town Meeting at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Y.W.C.A. following a broadcast of the problem. Speakers on the broadcast will be Jan Marsarik, Bruno Rosellim and Dr. George Earle Raiguel. Following the hour radio program the group at the Y.W.C.A. will discuss the pros and cons of the problem. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Crocker and Mr. and Mrs. Max Heine will be in charge of the meeting. All young people of the community are invited to attend.

Driving on Trabuco road a half mile north of El Toro corner last night, Harold Fletcher, 43, of El Toro CCC camp, was arrested by sheriff's officers, pronounced "very drunk" by an examining doctor, and booked at county jail on a drunk driving charge.

T. T. Chang, Chinese consul to the United States, will speak on the Sino-Japanese problem at the regular meeting of the Santa Ana

PILOTS' GROUP IN ASSOCIATION

With Carl Liensch, president of the Los Angeles chapter of the National Aeronautic association, and Miss M. DeJong, process engineer at the Northrop aviation plant, Inglewood, as featured speakers, the Eddie Martin Pilots' association last night was made a chapter of the National Aeronautic association.

Tells Experiences

The meeting, at which Liensch inducted the local group into the national membership, was held at Dixie Castle, with a dinner for the 75 persons who attended. Liensch, introduced by his personal friend, Dale Decker, program chairman, told of his experiences as an aviator since 1915 and of the aims of the National Aeronautic association.

Miss DeLong explained the operation of the department of which she is head, of its methods of testing every piece of material going into the construction of an airplane. The Northrup plant is a division of the Lockheed company.

37 Charter Members

Thirty-seven names of charter members of the local chapter of the national group appeared on the charter granted last night although since the charter was written a month ago, 20 new members have joined. President Grant Kyle of the Eddie Martin Pilots' association presided.

Police News

Rifling desks at the Delos Patterson dairy office, Route 3, Box 60-D, Santa Ana, last night, a burglar obtained $75.39 cash and a check for $12.82 while employees of the dairy were playing badminton nearby. The money was taken from four different departments in the office, according to investigating sheriff's officers. The check was made out to the dairy and signed C. H. Caldwell, 1315 Louise, Santa Ana.

A two and one-half day county jail term was meted out to Hansel Nobles, 21, Placentia, yesterday after he was convicted in Anaheim on a speeding charge. He was given the opportunity to pay off the sentence for $5.

C. V. Davis, 807 West First street, charged with failure to pay his city license for operation of the Santa Ana Soda Bottling works, was fined $12 by City Judge J. C. Mitchell yesterday. Elwood Brevig, Anaheim, was fined $25 for reckless driving.

Accused of attacking David Withall, local theater usher, while attempting to enter the theater without a ticket, Joe Rodriguez, 1805 1/2 West First street, was arrested last night by Capt. R. S. Elliott and Sergeant C. L. Neuschwanger at police headquarters where he gave himself up after hearing he was wanted. He was released on his own recognizance under order to appear in court late today.

WOOSTER WINS CLUB CONTEST

Ernest Wooster, by an address predicting the ultimate downfall of dictators and international triumph of democracy, won the first 1939 speaking championship of the Century Toastmasters' club last night.

Wives Attend Dinner

Wives of Toastmasters participated in the balloting. The runoff was a feature of the club's annual "ladies night," held in the Spanish room of the new Swanson Drive-In cafe.

High in the voting were club champion Sam Hurwitz, and Glenn Tidball, who traced the swift growth of the Toastmaster movement from a handful of clubs 12 years ago, to 130 clubs with chapters in several foreign countries today. The honor guests included Ralph Smedley, Y. M. C. A. secretary, who founded the organization here in 1924, and whose activities as general secretary are carrying the movement to every quarter of the globe.

Other Speakers

Hurwitz developed the subject, "Is Democracy the Way Out?" Dwight Hamilton spoke on "Adult Education." The subject of A. G. Green was, "Who Is the Forgotten Man?" Gilbert Platt discussed "The Overlapping of Duties in City and County Governments." The winning talk was developed from the subject, "The Verbal Combat of Democracies and Dictators."

General program critic, by invitation, was E. M. ("Sunny") Sundquist of the El Camino Toastmasters' club. President Bob Speed of Century presided. Master of ceremonies for the evening was Toastmaster Ted Blanding.

REALTORS TO HOLD ANNUAL FETE TODAY

The annual inauguration meeting of the 12th District of the California State Real Estate association will be held at the Green Cat cafe at 6:30 p. m. today as more than 100 delegates from the seven boards in the district meet with state officials.

Roy Peacock, of Laguna Beach, vice president of the state organization and leader of the 12th district, will be in charge of the program and will introduce Chris R. Jones, Sacramento, state president; Glenn D. Willaman, Los Angeles, state secretary; and G. D. Robertson, Los Angeles, honorary state president. Mortimer Clark, state real estate commissioner, will be in charge of the installation of new officers.

Representatives of Balboa, Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton, Santa Ana, Laguna Beach and Whittier boards will attend the meeting.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD

Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or chew poorly—your stomach often pours out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over. Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes time to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in no time and put you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one 25¢ package proves it. Ask for Bell's for Indigestion.

FRANCE MAY TIGHTEN SPAIN BORDER GUARD; AID REFUGEES

PERPIGNAN, French-Spanish Frontier, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Albert Sarraut, minister of interior, and Marc Rucart, minister of public health, ended an inspection of the French border opposite Catalonia today and considered whether to recommend immediate enforcement of French security Plan No. 1, which would involve mobilization of 50,000 active troops on the frontier.

The ministers en route to the border from Paris to take charge of the care of Spanish Loyalist refugees.

Fear Incidents

Reports that the security plan might be invoked were circulated, however, because simultaneously with their arrival at the border for admission to the Mediterranean and Andorra.

Nationalist authorities announced at Burgos, Spain, today that they would be willing to open their lines to permit the women and children who had fled to France or are waiting on the border for admission to the

The rumors (1) that Italian troops, removed from the Barcelona area, had been sent to the frontier, and (2) that Italy would send a contingent of men on the Loyalist seacoast near France, were intended to frighten Nationalist territory, promising that they would not be harmed. But at the same time they said that they would institute special courts to try Loyalists whom they had taken prisoner or who had surrendered to them during the Barcelona offensive.

D. SUITS MOVE INTO LOCAL COURT

San Diego county's two court suits against several Los Angeles county residents whose parents have been receiving public relief from San Diego county, were moved into Orange county today on court orders granting change of venue.

The defendants requested transfer of the suits to Los Angeles county, but got them only half way, Judge Arthur Mundo of San Diego ordering the venue changed to Orange county.

"Only One to Aid" In one action asking recovery of $315 allowed to Charles W. Wolff, the defendants include Wolff's wife, Mrs. Maude Wolff, and two sons, Harold and Clarence, of South Gate. Clarence is the only one able to contribute to his father's support, the complaint stated.

The other suit asked judgment for $264 against Ivan M. Cook, of Long Beach, Ralph E. Cook of Atascadero and Herbert Cook of San Diego, for relief payments made to their father, Herbert E. Cook.

PERSONALITY WINS OVER GOOD LOOKS IN POMONA COLLEGE POLL

"Composite ideal co-ed" should stand five feet five inches tall, have blue eyes, brunette hair, weigh 118 pounds, be of slender build and fair complexion. That was the average of a poll conducted among men of Pomona college recently.

Outside of the physical make-up, "personality" rated highest in a list of 11 qualities voted on by Pomona men. "Good looks" was second, "intelligence" rating third.

Other qualifications in order were sense of humor, neatness and cleanliness, honesty, similar likes, purity, conversational ability, dancing ability, likes to attend sports events.

When asked to name how much younger they prefer the co-ed, they indicated two years, on the average. Blondes were decidedly outvoted in favor of brunettes.

Past Presidents Of P. T. A. Meet

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 1.—Past presidents of the Huntington Beach Elementary Parent-Teacher association will be guests of honor at a Founders' Day program and tea in the visual education room of the school at 2:30 p. m., Thursday.

A cast of characters comprised of teachers and mothers will present a skit, "Who's Who in February." Mrs. James P. Ranney, Founders' Day chairman, is director of the skit and program chairman of the day. Mrs. Frances Lyon, head of the music department of the school, is arranging music for the day.

A birthday cake will be served at the tea by a group of hostesses. Small children will be cared for by attendants. It is announced by the president, Mrs. Byrl Harper.

Floyd Martin has solved the problem of what to do when it rains and there is no flying. He left Friday night on an American Airlines sleeper plane, piloted by brother Johnny, and bound for Detroit where he picked up a new car for a friend. He is heading homeward and expects to be back about Thursday. Just a mid-winter vacation, we'd say!

Our aircraft plants can deliver 5500 military planes a year with their present factory space by adding more labor and installing more machinery, the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce reports through President L. W. Rogers after making a survey of its own. Says Rogers: "In 1938, the industry produced about 3675 planes of all types and models which are now 300 private and business planes, 1425 light planes and 1800 military planes. The industry is nowhere near capacity production. Some important plants have practically no business. The 1938 average of 150 military planes a month was stepped up toward the end of the year. It now averages about 200. If a program demanded 5500 a year, the industry could meet those requirements if well coordinated, calling for types and models which are now in service or have passed satisfactory service tests."

A beautiful new graphic folder in color, describing a cross country trip by American Airlines, is being issued by that company. If you are interested in aviation, just write to their main office at 512 West Sixth street, Los Angeles, and I am sure they will mail you one of these folders. It is really a "News Behind the News" story and is interesting reading.

Do you know that . . . two carouretors on an airline motor cost as much as a complete automobile, $650? . . . Airline tires cost $120 each and never wear out because they are replaced after about 250 miles of ground travel? . . . (Just a safety measure on the airlines program) Sixteen man-hours are spent on mechanical overhaul and care for every hour the ships are in the air? . . . The first flight made by humans in a hot air balloon was made in 1783 in France by Joseph and Etienne Montgolfier and the balloon rose to a height of 6000 feet and traveled one and one-half miles?

PLEA FOR TOLERANCE SOUNDED BY HURWITZ AT CLUB MEETING

A touching plea for tolerance in the fight of the Zionist movement against anti-Semitism was made by Sam Hurwitz, Santa Ana merchant, at the regular meeting of the Santa Ana Rotary club yesterday at the Masonic Temple.

"Down through the ages the Jew has been the object of persecution at the hands of the rulers of nations," Hurwitz said. "In the present day world the baiting of the Jew can only be done in totalitarian states, and the threat of the Jewish race made by dictators in other lands is a threat to every democracy."

Provide For Home "Religious and political freedom and good will and understanding is the solution to the problem of anti-Semitism," he said. "The establishment of a Jewish nation in Palestine would go far in giving the Jews a standing in the races of the world as well as provide a home for the refugees that have been forced to flee their own countries."

"Because of their insignificant number in every nation, the Jew has been made the scape-goat of every national mistake. He is a popular figure for powerful rulers to use as an excuse for blunders."

Celebrate Birthdays "Complete submission of the Jewish race throughout the world is impossible and it is only in democracies where the common people are in control of the government that the Jew is given his freedom," Hurwitz said.

Walter Vandermast, charter member of the club, was program chairman for the day and introduced the speaker.

Walter Gerkin introduced William Grant, oil company executive, as a new member of the organization. In celebration of the birthdays of members born in January, James B. Tucker, official "birthday greeter" extended the best wishes of the club to Charles Chapman, Dan Stover and Wendell Finley. President William J. Stauffer was in charge of the meeting and announced that next Tuesday's meeting would be "100 per cent attendance meeting."

Activities of Girl Scouts

Take Training A training course for Brownie Leaders opened yesterday at the Girl Scout Little House. The next session of the course will be given tomorrow at 9:30 a. m. Those registering for the course were: Mrs. Carl Hopkins, Mrs. Mildred White, Mrs. Harry Fink, Mrs. John Sciarino, and Mrs. Elva Russell. Program building and pack administration will be discussed Thursday.

Follows Sealed Orders Troop three followed orders prepared by Dorothy Brush, president, and Virginia Bryan, vice-president, taking them to San Diego Park. Those who took part were: Miss Martha Tuthill, Miss Alberta Greene, Beverly Russell, Florence Faingburg, Jean Hendrie, Jean Francis, Marion Frances, Lucille Mendenhall, Betty Webb, Mary Olive Tozier, Virginia Bryan, and Dorothy Brush.

First Meeting Troop 19, held its first meeting Friday in the Auditorium of Edison school. Those attending the meeting were: Irene Lucille Lucas, Joyce La Verne Hurley, Ruth Hutter, Shirley Smith, Della Hagan, Rolinda Morse, Joan White, Nordene Shirley, Phyllis Jiles, Betty Shirley, Wanda Gibson, Marion Edwards, Marilyn Lauson, Nola Jacobs, Mrs. Mildred White and Mrs. Jeta Shirley.

Palm Springs, Sunday, February 5. It is for light planes of only 40 or 50 h.p. engines. A cow-boy breakfast will be served at 9 a. m. Following the breakfast, entertainment will be featured by the Palm Springs junior chamber of commerce. By the way, the new Santa Ana junior chamber is expecting to make aviation one of its major activities.

Bill Cheney jr. has a two-weeks' vacation from the American Airlines, and what do you think he is going to do on his vacation? You guessed it! "B" and his Mrs. left for Tucson where they will meet another couple and from there they will fly a Beechcraft to Mexico City to see the sights. They expect to cover about 3000 miles in the two weeks.

DR. F. M. EDWARDS' DISCOVERY FOR CONSTIPATION

Benefits Nation of Sufferers! COLUMBUS, OHIO: For over 20 years Dr. F. M. Edwards (widely known physician) successfully treated scores of patients for constipation and the headaches, lack of energy and mental dullness which often result. This wise Doctor knew liver bile must flow freely every day into your intestines or fatty foods can't be properly digested and you may become constipated. So he kept this in mind when he perfected his famous Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Olive Tablets, being purely vegetable, are harmless, yet they assure gentle, thorough bowel movements and ALSO help stimulate bile flow. Test their goodness TONIGHT! 15c, 30c, 60c.

WPA REPORTS ON OPERATIONS

Approximately 30,700 men are employed on more than 260 WPA construction projects in Southern California, according to a report of the operations division submitted today to Herbert C. Legg when he began his duties as Southern California administrator of the Works Progress administration.

The report showed 266 projects in operation including highway construction, storm drains and flood control work, sanitary sewers, schools and other public buildings, airports, water mains, parks and recreational facilities.

According to the report, $92,311,757 has been expended on construction projects under Col. Donald H. Connolly, retiring administrator. The federal government or 81 per cent of that total which included an expenditure of $12,593,114 for materials, equipment and other non-labor items.

The balance of $62,903,311 reflects the amount expended for 1,001,692 man-months of labor of which over 95 per cent has been taken from the relief rolls, it was explained by the report prepared by G. I. Farman, director of operations. "It has cost the federal government $79.37 per man-month at provide work relief to the needy in Southern California, approximately $62.80 of which was spent for labor, and $12.57 for non-labor items."

Legg found also that he had administrative control over 51,385 persons assigned to work on projects, including the federal cultural projects. Aside from 32 "state-wide" workers, the assignments were listed by counties as follows: Los Angeles, 35,390; San Diego, 6,020; San Bernardino, 4,450; Orange, 2,249; Riverside, 2,110; Santa Barbara, 793 and Ventura 341.

CONVALESCING

MIDWAY CITY, Feb. 1.—W. C. Wilson is convalescing from injuries to his back and side sustained in a 14-foot fall from a tree which he was topping for wood for his fireplace on South Jackson street. A pile of tin cans under the tree added insult to injury by clipping a lock of his hair and inflicting a slight head injury, when he struck them in his descent.

Then, too, there is the dreaded "change of life" period, called by physicians "menopause." Women of any age who suffer from periodic pains, headache, pains in back, associated with functional disturbances, would do well to try that vegetable tonic, made without alcohol, and favorably known for seventy years as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Loyalist Mother Receives Aid

The stealthy, silent hand of winter waved away the roar of Niagara Falls and turned that turbulent spot into a scene resembling a petrified forest or the inside of a prehistoric cave.

Everybody has heard about "mountainous waves". A passenger on the S. S. Champlain put them on film during a recent crossing of the Atlantic in the midst of storms and a cold-wave.

Food for a Spanish refugee mother and her babe is the first thought of French officers as a flood of Spanish refugees descends on Perthus, just across the border from Spain. This mother fled the outskirts of Barcelona ahead of the advance of Gen. Franco's insurgent troops.—Acme Radio-Telephoto.

Hello, Mr. Mayor!"—"Hello, Your Lordship!"

A New Problem For France

The Chief Magistrates of the world's two greatest cities had a friendly chat across the Atlantic when Mayor La Guardia of New York and Mayor Sir Frank Henry Bowater talked for fifteen minutes over radio telephones set up by the National Broadcasting Company. Resplendent in the trappings of his office, Lord Mayor Bowater is seen in the radiophoto at left, talking from his state coach. At right, Mayor La Guardia replies while riding to City Hall in his automobile.

Through a pass in the Pyrennes mountains straggles Loyalist troops to seek a haven over the border of France. But the French government has rushed additional troops to stem the tide of refugees, with orders to turn back all government soldiers. The retreat from Barcelona began when General Franco's armies won the city.—Acme Radio-Telephoto.

A City Laid Waste By Mighty Temblor

Here is part of the parade of San Francisco WPA workers and members of several San Francisco unions, held in protest against the congressional effort to cut WPA funds $150,000,000.

Leading fight of anti-Homer Martin faction of United Automobile Workers is R. J. Thomas, above, elected acting president of U. A. W. after union's executive board deposed Martin. Thomas' faction gained C. I. O. recognition.

They Had a 'Fair' Dope Plot

Faces Doom

Debris Litters Streets After Disaster

A bizarre plot to ship dope to a Golden Gate International Exposition concession concealed in fireworks is charged to Chung Lei, one-time Chinese bank president. His asserted accomplice, Mrs. Seto Gin, was arrested in San Francisco, assertedly with $100,000 in opium concealed in a trunk.

Death in San Quentin's gas chamber is faced by James J. Cordova, 29, San Diego, found guilty of killing his two small sons while they slept.

Another view in Concepcion, Chile, where thousands of persons were killed in their homes and in the streets when a mighty earthquake struck the land. In the debris-littered streets starvation and pestilence stalks.—Acme Radio-Telephoto.

Questioned In Shooting

Hospitalized with a bullet wound in his neck he said he inflicted accidentally, multi-millionaire Jules Brulatur was ordered arrested by Manhattan District Attorney Dewey for alleged illegal possession of firearms. Brulatur is pictured above with Hope Hampton, his stage and screen star wife, who was questioned.

Urges Pro-Rate At Associated Chamber Meeting

EXCHANGE HEAD IS SPEAKER AT MEET

FULLERTON, Feb. 1.—Pro-rate is helpful under any crop condition, and always better than unorganized methods of shipment of crops, according to Paul Armstrong, general manager of the California Fruit Growers' exchange, who last night urged business men to support the co-operative marketing agreement, regulated shipments, and constant build up of consumer demand when he was principal speaker at the Associated Chambers of Commerce meeting at the Fullerton Bit o' Scandia cafe.

The speaker consistently urged the California-Arizona pact agreement be used as a basis for marketing, since it "provides facilities, and is backed by the government" for citrus marketing. He anticipated that crop for this season to be larger than ever, and indicated that general conditions, of course, have helped break the citrus market for the past year, while the preliminary difficulty was "heavy plantings in the prosperous twenties in California, Florida, and Texas, provided a yield far beyond market consumption needs."

To overcome the difficulties, citrus plantings should be decreased, and distribution extended, according to the speaker. Extension of distribution should be produced through better transportation methods, efficient handling, reduced field costs of production, increased national buying power, improved standards of quality, while supply should be decreased through the means any individual grower would so decrease them by eliminating unprofitable orchards, withholding unprofitable grades and sizes, developing by-products outlets, and regulating current shipments to meet current needs, he indicated.

In amplifying the bumper crop from bumper plantings as a chief cause of a break in marketing, he presented figures showing that in 1939, 183,000 cars of oranges will be marketed, in 1938, 170,000 cars were on the trees, and that the average over a period of five years was 134,000 cars.

Citrus crops, including oranges, lemons and grapefruit, for 1939, are estimated at 310,000 cars; 270,000 were on the trees in 1938, and the average for the past five years has been 211,000.

In answer to questions, he supported the auction marketing system, and admitted savings from changes of freight rates usually are to the consumer.

Harry Arthur of Anaheim presided. T. K. Gowen, former mayor of Fullerton, welcomed the guests; Harry Welch of Newport Beach responded, and LeRoy Lyons, vice president and member of the board of directors of the California Fruit Growers' exchange, presented the speaker.

RURAL PRINCIPALS PLAN FOR MEETING

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 1.—The monthly meeting of Orange County Rural Principals is announced by John R. Peterson of Oceanview schools, president of the organization for Friday evening, February 3, dinner to be served at 6:15 o'clock in the cafeteria of Huntington Beach elementary school with the meeting proper to be conducted afterward in the gymnasium at the same school.

The subject, "Rhythm Games and Other Rainy Day Helps" can be aptly illustrated by those presenting the program in this gymnasium which is said to be finer and of more modern equipment than the majority of high schools on the coast. Boys' Coach James Ranney, assisted by Mary Goodwin will show the many interesting features of the gymnasium. All superintendents, principals and coaches of Orange county rural schools present will take some part in the evening's program.

Miss Crick To Be Speaker

TUSTIN, Feb. 1.—Miss Anna Crick, of Pasadena, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Missionary society to be held at 2:15 p. m., February 2, at the church.

New officers to be installed are: Mrs. Calvin Duncan, president; Mrs. Earl Sharpless, vice president; Mrs. Robert Perry, secretary; and Mrs. Henry Windler, treasurer. Mrs. Charles Haller, outgoing president, will conduct the business session. All members and friends are invited.

PROF. DEMARAY TO CONDUCT REVIVAL

ANAHEIM, Feb. 1.—Prof. C. Dorr Demaray from Los Angeles Pacific College will begin a 10-day revival series at the Anaheim Free Methodist church, 125 East Sycamore street, on Wednesday evening, Feb. 1. Prof. Demaray has been teaching in Pacific College for the last nine years and has conducted youth campaigns throughout the United States. He is dean of students at the college and is engaged regularly in promoting youth work in Southern California. He conducted a similar campaign two years ago at the Anaheim church. He will speak each night at 7:30 p. m. from Feb. 1 to Feb. 12. Organizations from the college will furnish special music from time to time.

PIONEER DIES IN FULLERTON HOME

FULLERTON, Feb. 1.—Mrs. Louise Dean Gardiner, 59, a resident of Fullerton more than 40 years, and of Orange county for a longer time, died suddenly early Tuesday at her home at 333 West America avenue. She had been ill for many years, and became worse Saturday, passing away Tuesday morning early of a heart affliction and asthma.

Besides her husband, John F. Gardiner, of the same address, and one son, Donald, and a sister, Suzanne Claire Dean, who resides at the family home, she is survived by one other son, Carl D., of Pasadena, a brother, Elmer Dean, of Fullerton, and a brother, Chester Dean of Ames, Iowa.

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. Thursday from the First Presbyterian church, with Dr. Graham C. Hunter in charge. Interment will be at Loma Vista cemetery. McAulay and Suters, morticians are in charge.

Mrs. Gardiner was a member of the Presbyterian church, and was affiliated with the Y. chapter P.E.O.

'GUNGA DIN' IS HERE TOMORROW

What happens when three British army sergeants discover a wholesale religious murder plot flaming along India's northwestern frontier provides the dramatic action of the spectacular film, "Gunga Din," in which Cary Grant, Victor MacLaglen and Douglas Fairbanks, jr., are co-starred. This version of the famous Kipling poem comes to the Broadway tomorrow for a limited engagement.

Two hundred and twenty miles from Los Angeles near the base of Mount Whitney a complete Hindu city was built augmented with the erection of a Hindu temple. Fifteen hundred players, several elephants and scores of horses were transported to the edge of the desert to bring to the screen the thrilling story of the native water carrier, Gunga Din.

An impressive cast includes Sam Jaffe in the title role and Joan Fontaine, Montagu Love and Charles Bennett. Donald Duck cartoon, a novelty short and news-reel complete the bill.

Showing for the last times tonight are the two hit pictures, "They Made Me a Criminal," and "Swing Sister Swing." John Garfield, Claude Rains, May Robson, Ann Sheridan and the Six Dead End Kids combine talented efforts to make "They Made Me a Criminal" one of the most dramatic pictures of the current season. In "Swing Sister Swing," Ken Murray, Johnny Downs and Kathryn Kane star with the aid of Ted Weems' orchestra.

Officer Arrests Son For Theft

WALLINGTON, N. J., Feb. 1.—Charles Baur, who fulfilled his duty as a policeman by arresting his son, Patrick, 28, on a holdup charge, debated today whether his duties as a father required him to "stand by" the son in court.

"I couldn't help doing what I did, it was in the line of duty," he said. "I don't know whether I'll help him. It might be a good lesson to him. But it was all caused by unemployment. He's been out of a job for a long time."

The son, who is married and became a father last Saturday, was suspected of having driven the getaway car and shared in the $36 loot from a drug store robbery. Officer Baur, a veteran of 16 years on the police force, learned from other suspects that his son was involved and made the arrest.

Solons Hear Perkins Defense

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(UP)—The House judiciary committee today heard Solicitor General D. Reilly of the labor department defend Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins' actions in the Harry Bridges deportation case.

Reilly contended, in a secret session of the committee lasting more than two hours, that the department had done "everything reasonable and proper" in proceeding against Bridges, Australian-born labor leader. The department delayed final action in the case pending Supreme Court decision in a case involving deportability of an alien solely on grounds of Communist party membership.

Reilly, with Miss Perkins and Immigration Commissioner James L. Houghteling, is the subject of an impeachment resolution introduced by Rep. J. Parnell Thomas, R., N. J.

Death Claims Victim Of Thugs

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Leo C. Smith, 62, night clerk in the Woodcrest winery, died today in Hawthorne hospital, the second victim of a $35 holdup which took the life of Paul Scott, 28, a customer at the liquor store. Scott was shot to death by the holdup man as he stood before a counter purchasing liquor. Smith was wounded fatally in the forehead. His body was found behind the counter.

County Turns Down Fair Offer

Orange county, through its board of supervisors, yesterday rejected an offer from the San Francisco fair management to designate an Orange County Day at the fair.

On motion of Supervisor Willis Warner, the board voted to decline, on the ground that the county is not financially prepared to take advantage of the offer, which would involve expense of a display calling attention to Orange county.

MYRA NORTH, SPECIAL NURSE

"STITCH, STITCH" IS MACHINE THEME

Thomas Hood's old poem of the "Song of the Shirt" that started with the lines "Stitch, stitch, stitch," might well be the theme of a report made today by Harry V. Taylor, manager of the Wheeler Sewing Machine shop at 120 North Sycamore street.

For the last 32 days Taylor has run a sewing machine for eight hours and has put nearly eight million stitches into a piece of fabric. When the test run of 90 days is completed, the machine will have taken 28,800,000 stitches and will run more quietly than when it was first started, Taylor claims.

Taylor and Mrs. Taylor came to Santa Ana from Peoria, Illinois, just before the first of the year and have been placed in charge of the Southern California area as distributors for the Wheeler machine. Chief technical difference in the Wheeler and other sewing machines is the use of a patented "floating gib" hook that guarantees against the locking of mechanism at the point where the hook meets the material being sewn. The Wheeler machine is driven by an electric motor having one-fifth horsepower.

Olson To Name Alameda Judge

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 1.—(UP)—Governor Culbert L. Olson announced today he would appoint either S. Victor Wagner or John C. Stritt to fill the vacancy on the Alameda superior court bench caused by the resignation of Mark Lee Megladdery, former secretary to ex-Gov. Frank F. Merriam.

In a letter to Stanley J. Smith, president of the Alameda County Bar Association, Governor Olson named the two attorneys he had under consideration for the post and added: "If you organization desires to take a plebiscite of its members for their choice of either Mr. Wagner or Mr. Stritt I shall be glad to have them do so immediately and advise me of the result."

Four Killed In Tenement Blaze

CLEVELAND, Feb. 1.—(UP)—A widowed mother, her two small children and a man were burned to death today in a fire that swept through an old tenement.

The dead: Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, 23, her sons, Clayton, 2, and Everett, 5; and a man tentatively identified as William Eich, 50, former city tuberculosis patient.

Thirteen roomers were trapped on the top floor of the two story structure when flames swept through its narrow hall. Two persons were burned seriously and three others injured in leaping 20 feet to the ground.

Gets Five Years For Mail Fraud

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Leslie A. McKercher, once a fellow prisoner of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, self-styled North Pole discoverer, in a Texas oil swindle, was sentenced today to five years imprisonment for mail fraud.

Andrew G. Ilse, sr., president of the International Mining & Milling Co., received a like sentence. They were found guilty by Federal Judge Leon Yankwich, who heard the case without a jury, of defrauding investors in a $1,000,000 gold mining scheme. Andrew G. Ilse, jr., was sentenced to one year in jail and a three-year probationary period.

RESIDENT OF BREA 20 YEARS, CALLED

FULLERTON, Feb. 1.—Mrs. Grace B. Bowie, 58, died suddenly at her home in Brea yesterday from a heart ailment. Death was unexpected. She had resided in Brea more than 20 years, and was well known in North Orange county. She belonged to the Church of the Nazarene and the W.C.T.U.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later from the McAulay and Suters funeral home. In addition to her husband, Alfrete Bowie, surviving are a son, Herman, of Fullerton; a daughter, Mrs. Della Marks of Brea; a sister, Mrs. Ruth Ziver of La Bida; a brother, F. M. Woodward of Brea, and another brother, Oscar Woodward of New York state.

Newport C. of C. Plans Campaign

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 1.—Policies of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce for the new year will be objectives concentrated on definite progression, according to Paul Palmer, new president of the group, selected at a Monday meeting of the board of directors. Suggested was a program presenting the attractions of the city to the in-landers, attraction here of a number of visitors who will attend the San Francisco World's fair, and consideration of interests of local business men. Tentative plans for four night meetings during the year were considered.

Named as a committee to formulate a plan of operation for the year were Dr. Howard Seager, Clarence Reed, Louis Briggs and Walter Spicer. The latter, retiring chamber president, was given a vote of thanks for his work of the past year.

New Equipment Is Installed

COSTA MESA, Feb. 1.—Additional equipment is being installed at the Newport-Costa Mesa Irrigation District pumping plant which it is said will result in at least 20 per cent greater water output.

Included in the work is the installation of a deep well pumping unit which will raise 1200 gallons of water per minute at capacity speed. Rate with the present equipment is 1000 gallons.

Newport Heights Irrigation District has scheduled an election of officers for tomorrow with polling places announced as 1509 Orange avenue for division one, 201 Broadway, division two, and the George Merrill residence, on Orange avenue between 21st and 22nd streets for division three.

The Decision

January Building At Beach Sports

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 1.—Construction in the Newport Harbor district for the month of January was valued at $80,185, according to records of the city building inspector, A. M. Nelson. The sum exceeds construction in January of last year by approximately $20,000. Permits issued the past week totaled $16,500.

Construction was begun the past week on a two story six room stucco residence and two car garage at 2031 East Central avenue for G. N. Madigan. Permit for the construction was $7500. A $2000 home is being constructed at 415 39th street, for A. H. Thomas of Los Angeles and a similar home on 32nd street for Mayme J. Covey of Pasadena. A new residence at 217 Apolena avenue is being built for Harold G. Armstrong, H. C. Simmonds of 120-22 Via Lido Nord, Lido Isle, is constructing a two car garage with guest room, bath and shower at a cost of $2800.

Young People Observe Day

WESTMINSTER, Feb. 1.—Young People's day for the Presbyterian church was observed Sunday evening with a program of worship and music. Eldred Scheutz acted as leader and included on the program were Miss Villa Faye Scheutz and the church pastor, Rev. George M. Greer.

"His Kingdom Comes" was the general topic and the instrumental music was by Mrs. Orion Bebermeyer, meyer with Orion Bebermeyer, gram.

"Nation Shifts Back To People," Says Sheridan

News behind the news

—by—
paul mallon
World Copyright 1939

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—What suspicious congressmen know but cannot say about developing coincidences in U. S. relations with Britain and France is:

(A) In our next war in Europe, this country will not again send large fighting forces to our allies, but will turn itself into the greatest supplies source in world history. Our mass production factories will turn out airplanes, guns, tanks, food, clothing at a speed and efficiency no one else can match. Everyone here knows it. The machine age has come into war as well as economics. It is what our prospective allies would want. They have enough man power. What they will need is implement power. Acknowledgement of this obvious truth is even now unofficial government policy projected for the future. But it will not be announced. No authority has confessed it officially. No one can prove it. No demonstration of it has yet been made. Therefore, legislators and others can do little talking about it, although no such limitation applies to their thinking.

(B) A number of senators, possibly a majority, certainly most Republicans and anti-Roosevelt Democrats, just plainly do not have much confidence in Mr. Roosevelt in foreign affairs. Their suspicions are not unreasonable, just human; not provable but still not secret to anyone within earshot of the capitol. As these doubtful folk suspiciously see him, the president may be inclined to impetuosity and dangerously deep partisanship in international affairs.

These two factors are wholly personal and unofficial, yet without a knowledge of them, you cannot possibly understand what has been going on here lately. Why so much is being made of the discovery of a French air ministry official in a prospective new army plane, where he had no right to be except that he had a letter of introduction from Secretary Morgenthau who has no jurisdiction over planes but is a close personal friend of the president whose other close friend, Bill Bullitt, recently returned to Paris as ambassador of France. . . . why Republican Senators Nye wants to call Morgenthau back before the military affairs committee for questioning on whether the stabilization fund can be used to promote indirect credits for foreign purchases of American material. . . . why Republican Senator Borah is so closely interested in Premier Chamberlain's speech hailing Mr. Roosevelt's leadership in opposition to the dictators. . . . why even stenographers have been asked to leave the secret sessions of the senate military affairs committee when the testimony of Morgenthau, Gens. Craig and Arnold involved important matters. . . . why committeemen will not talk about these sessions. . . .

Frankly, the doubters of Mr. Roosevelt are cautiously trying to disclose a transatlantic meeting of anti-dictator minds (being described erroneously as an "agreement") and do not appear to be sufficiently psychic to make out what they are sure it is.

Congressional directors have had some minor difficulty attempting to restrain Labor Secretary Fanny Perkins from defending herself too much against the impeachment charge brought by a Republican member. They favor the soft-shoe-delayed-pass method of handling such a challenge, give it a-a-u-t-o-u-s consideration and then do only what is necessary. Miss Perkins, however, seems to be a bit worried as to whether

ELKS WORK FOR UNIFORM CODE

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Fourteen hundred Elks lodges today were requested to give their full support to the enactment of motor vehicle legislation in their respective states to conformity with the uniform vehicle code, of the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety, it was today announced by Charles Spencer Hart, chairman of the grand lodge traffic safety committee and past grand exalted ruler of the Elks.

Send Open Letter
Dr. Edward J. McCormick, grand exalted ruler, joined with the heads of 14 other national organizations in signing an open letter to all the members of 44 state legislatures now in session, asking for the utmost degree of uniformity in traffic laws.

"None will dispute the right of the motorist and the pedestrian to expect that laws, regulations, rules-of-the-road, signs, signals and markers wherever he travels will be the same as in his own community where he understands the requirements and instinctively obeys them," said Dr. McCormick. "It is unreasonable to expect each motorist to be familiar with the kaleidoscopic pattern of laws and regulations now obtainable in some of the 48 states, some of which have no logical basis for existence."

Action On County Plumbing Code Is Delayed By Board

A prospective clash between supervisors over the issue of extending plumbing regulations of the county code to the fourth supervisorial district, which at present is exempt from them, yesterday was deferred to February 7, while the board awaits the filing of a written opinion from County Counsel James E. Walker.

Walker was asked by the board last week to give a ruling on the question whether the building ordinance with the fourth district exempt from its applications, is constitutional. Supervisor N. E. West of the fifth district demands that the fourth district be included. Supervisor Harry Riley, of the third district, says he thinks all districts should be included, or none. Chairman Willard Smith, of the fourth district, contends that if the other districts want the regulations they should have them, but his district does not want it and should not have it forced on them.

her case is in competent hands. Upshot probably will be some private hearings by the house judiciary committee and a mildly critical report to the house later in the session. Miss Perkins definitely will not be tried.

But on the other hand and foot, the Dies committee will get its $100,000 or more to continue its investigation.

Flashlight: The idea that Federal Judge Manton should resign seems to have originated in Washington. . . . Senator Reynolds' speech on foreign affairs in the senate January 25 will be valuable to foreign affairs students if they know it as an undoubted reflection of majority senate viewpoint on foreign affairs. . . . a shrewd assayer of political ore has analyzed Senator Bennett Champ Clark's chances thus (with the transom closed): "He has brains, personality, geographical position, but he won't make the 1940 grade, because those who will have to unite on a 1940 candidate will not unite on him." . . . A higher authority than the federal communications commission (that is, higher as far as Elliott Roosevelt is concerned) has taken a hand toward revising the implications of Elliott's regular broadcasts as a radio commentator in Texas. The broadcasts may stop. . . . Alice Roosevelt's recent undisclosed conference with Vice President Garner did not turn out successfully in any respect. . . . Mr. Roosevelt is also going to have the greatest of all stamp collections when he retires. State department has standing orders to send over their cancelled incoming foreign stamps.

Heads Assembly

Gordon X. Richmond, city attorney of Orange, was elected president of the newly formed Orange County Republican assembly at a meeting here last night.

G.O.P. HEARS L. A. SPEAKER

Republicans heard an address by James M. Sheridan, of Los Angeles, in which he said the "cycle is turning back to conservative government," and formally organized the Orange County Republican assembly at a meeting in Junior College hall last night.

Officers were elected, with Gordon X. Richmond, of Orange, as president; Mrs. Frank Rospaw of Placentia, as vice president, and John K. Colwell, of Santa Ana, as secretary-treasurer. Chairman of the five supervisorial districts are J. B. Utt, of Santa Ana, first; Ray Overacker, of Huntington Beach, second; Raymond Thompson, of Fullerton, third; Roy N. Edwards, of Orange, fourth, and Frank Latham, of Tustin, fifth.

"Begin To Take Stock"
Declaring that the Republicans should begin to take stock of the situation for 1940, Sheridan said that California presents a difficult problem because of the influx of people here from all parts of the country.

Citing action by Congress the past week, Sheridan declared that the "balance has shifted from the White House back to Congress. The representatives have heard from the people."

Problem Still Here
Telling of the pre-depression events, Sheridan declared that the 10 to 12 million men who lost jobs during the depression are still out of work "because the administration still has not solved the problem."

Sheridan read an article written by John Spargo and published in 1936 outlining the issues before the people at that time and declared that the issues have not changed materially.

Sheridan was special assistant to the United States attorney general during the Taft and Wilson administration, represented the United States abroad during the Taft administration and campaigned for Taft and Harding.

Charter Presented
Those making brief talks included McIntyre Faries, of Los Angeles, president of the California State assembly; Julius Knoblauch, of Los Angeles, executive secretary of the state assembly; Don Adams of Riverside, regional director; Col. M. B. Wellington, chairman of the Orange County Central Committee. Raymond Thompson, chosen temporary chairman at a previous meeting, presided at last night's meeting.

The charter was presented by McIntyre Faries, a former resident of Orange. Faries said one of the purposes of the assembly was to learn how the people feel on various issues. Telling of the many new laws presented, he suggested that committees representing assemblies discuss new measures with the legislators.

Don Adams told of work of the assembly in Riverside and San Bernardino counties.

Colonel Wellington read the nominating committee's report, while Ray Overacker read the report of the committee on by-laws and constitution.

Oil Companies Receive Grant

Oil companies desiring to use public highways in geophysical tests in connection with oil exploration were granted the privilege under strict protective conditions, by action of the county supervisors yesterday.

The companies making such tests must obtain permission from adjacent property owners; must file bonds of $50,000 and $100,000 to cover personal injury or property damage; must obtain permit from the county highway superintendent, and file with him a bond of $500 to guarantee leaving the highway in the condition it was found.

BONDING SNARL AGAIN AVERTED

The question of bonding deputy county officials who handle public funds came before the board of supervisors again late yesterday, and was again postponed a week, as the board lacked information on the feasibility of providing a blanket bond for all such deputies and officials, as an alternative to obtaining individual bonds.

Oppose Code
Dian R. Gardner and Cecil J. Marks, of the Orange county farm bureau, were before the supervisors to oppose extension of the plumbing regulations in county building ordinance to the fourth supervisorial district. The board is scheduled to receive an opinion from Counsel J. E. Walker next week on the constitutionality of the ordinance, with the fourth district not included.

To Buy Car
Purchase of an automobile for the sheriff's office, to cost not more than $1000, was authorized in instructions to the purchasing agent. An old car now in use is to be traded.

COUNTY OKES TWO PROJECTS FOR WPA

The county supervisors yesterday approved applications for two WPA projects covering county activities, one to conduct a survey of the county to discover insect pests, the other to codify all county ordinances.

Chairman Willard Smith and Auditor W. T. Lambert were authorized to sign application for a $2141 project for codification, of which $371 is charged to the county. This amount will be covered by furnishing a desk, typewriter and office space in the county clerk's office.

The insect survey will cost $14,458, of which the county share is $3593. County Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs will supervise the survey.

Lighting District Asks Expansion

Annexation of nearly five blocks of additional territory to the Garden Grove lighting district was sought yesterday in a petition filed with the county supervisors, who referred it to Counsel James E. Walker for the commencement of annexation proceedings.

The petitioners seek to extend the present boundaries from a line between Seventh and Eighth streets to a new line along Ninth street, in the area between College avenue and Garden Grove boulevard.

Tucson, Ariz., is the only walled city in the United States.

500 BOY SCOUTS TO TAKE PART IN COUNTY PROGRAM SATURDAY

Five hundred Scouts from the Orange County Council will meet at Valencia High school in Placentia Saturday morning, February 11, for an all county pow wow, it was announced today by Merle J. Krulish, field Scout executive.

From 9 a.m. until noon, various Scouting events will be run off which will include water boiling, flapjack cooking, fire by friction, fire by flint and steel, knot tying, first aid and signaling. There will be four awards for each event.

Field Meets Slated
In the afternoon, under the direction of Stewart N. White, of Orange, and Coach Ryan, of Anaheim, track and field meets will be held. During the afternoon various troops will play challenge basketball games.

Throughout the day an archery exhibition will be presented by William Carithers, of Santa Ana, and a model camp will be on display which is being presented by the Placentia troop No. 100. The public is invited to attend pow wow and witness the manner in which Orange county is putting the "outing" in Scouting.

Committee In Charge
Heading the committee for the arrangements of the pow wow are Earl Denney, chairman of troop No. 100, Placentia; Charles B. Reed, Scoutmaster of troop No. 100, Placentia; Joe Severns, Scoutmaster of troop 96, La Habra; Harold Peabody, chairman of committee of troop 96, La Habra; C. A. Kirk, Scoutmaster, troop 53, Orange; and members of district 5; Earl Williams, vice-chairman; R. M. Seamans, commissioner of scouting in district 5.

Woman Fails To Win Children But Gets $75 Alimony

Mrs. Lois Reynolds Warden, who slipped away from her Anaheim home with J. H. Warden, of Buena Park, each getting a Mexico divorce, then eloped to Tijuana to marry, failed to win custody of her two children yesterday in Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court, but was awarded $75 per month temporary alimony, though she is now living with Warden at National City.

Custody of the children—a girl 15, and a boy, 13—was given to their father, Claude Reynolds, of is pending, as is a suit by Mrs. Velma Warden, who was likewise deserted, she claims.

Peddlers License Measure Passed

Peddlers of hardware and merchandise in Orange county henceforth must pay a business license of $50 per year, under an ordinance amendment adopted by the county supervisors today.

The board today refused to grant a pool room license to David Yorba, of San Juan Capistrano, Sheriff J. L. Elliott having recommended denial.

WATER BOARD VOTES TO ACQUIRE TRACTOR

Members of the board of directors of the Orange County Water district voted to purchase an International tractor from M. El-tiste and company for work in the Santa Ana river when they held a special meeting yesterday afternoon. The bid was for $6105.

The tractor is the first purchased by the board for river work.

Candidates Listed
The next regular meeting will be on February 8, the day following the district's election to select directors in four divisions. Candidates are Dian Gardner, division two; Ralph McFadden, three; J. J. Denni, four, and Vernon Heil, six. Directors of the other divisions, William Mauerhan, division one; Roy Browning five, and Frank Champion, seven, were elected two years ago and hold over.

Party Guests Shower
Bride-Elect With Linens

Party guests, arriving at the Gavin Baxter home Saturday evening, bore mysterious packages, gay with ribbons, all of which later added to the charm of the party planned by Mrs. Baxter in compliment to her niece, Miss Margaret Jean Baxter, fiancée of Thomas S. Weil.

Small tables arranged in the living room for serving a dessert course, each had a wreath of stocks and asparagus fern circling a slim yellow taper, with gay little umbrellas sheltering the pretty white nut baskets at each place. White pottery bowls of blossoms added a charming background to the scene. After enjoyment of the ices and the cake frosted in yellow wedding bell design, guests used their umbrella place cards for recording scores in Chinese checkers.

Mrs. C. E. Smith and Mrs. Earl Tissue won first and second prizes. Mrs. Harding Edkins (Marion Ruth Baxter), daughter of the hostess, who assisted throughout the evening, had the honor of escorting her cousin, Miss Baxter to the dining room, where in the meantime, the shower packages had been placed on a table centered with a bowl of snowy blossoms.

Guests, representing friends in this city, Tustin and Long Beach, had provided lovely linens for the prospective bride, who has chosen the birthday anniversary, February 16, of her father, Ray Baxter, 1615 Bush street, for her wedding to Mr. Weil.

Miss Tompkins Presents
Students in Program

Miss Leonora Tompkins presented a group of her piano students in a varied program recently in her home, 711 South Sycamore street, where mothers and friends of the young musicians assembled.

In response to special requests, Miss Tompkins played selections including "Nocturne" (MacDowell), "Toreador" and "Andalous" (Rubinstein) and "Fourth Venetian Barcarolle" (Godard), also giving a short talk on each of the composers represented.

Pupils taking part were Billy Bob McKay, Richard Stoltz, Harriet Stoltz, Marilyn Wilson, Flora Margaret Howland, Melvin Rez, Harold Grimes, Barbara Boose, Maxine Williams, Gloria Crouse, Elsie Hinck, Betty Hillhouse. A special number was a violin solo by Frieda Hinck, accompanied by her sister, Elsie.

Refreshments were served by Miss Tompkins, assisted by the Misses Betty Hillhouse, Gloria Crouse, Maxine Williams and Elsie Hinck.

Phi Sigma Province
Members Meet Here

Discussing plans for Phi Sigma convention to be held in Long Beach in July, members of the fraternity's Southland province met recently in the home of Edwin Cox on West First street, Los Angeles, Glendale, Pasadena, Long Beach and Santa Ana chapters were represented.

National officers present were Ed Velarde of this city, editor of the fraternity publication and supreme historian; Walter Hatch of San Gabriel, supreme consul; Glenn Brooks of Los Angeles, supreme treasurer; Walter McGarvin, supreme orator; Hubert Channess of Long Beach, president. Reports were given on the Phi Sigma dance held in January at the Los Angeles Biltmore hotel. Refreshments were served to 27 members.

Gay Birthday Event

Eleven years old yesterday, young Billy Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Lewis, 1110 South Birch street, had an advance celebration of his anniversary on Saturday when a group of his young friends accepted invitation to luncheon and a theater party.

Mrs. Lewis had a prettily arranged table in readiness for serving luncheon to Billy and his pals, Rodney Jones, Ned Munselle, Leon Herren, Michael and Pat Maloney, Eugene Morrison, Irving Johnson, Kenneth and Donald Ainsworth, Billy Patterson, Jack Burris and Osborne Holmes. The boys especially enjoyed the dessert course with its big birthday cake glittering with candles. All had brought pretty birthday gifts for Billy, which were opened and admired before Mrs. Lewis escorted the group to a local theater to complete a happy afternoon.

Department President Is Honored At Dinner Event

Urging American Legion auxiliaries to give support to those national measures advocated by the American Legion, Department President Florence Chess was followed with close attention last night, in the inspiring address with which she concluded her official visit to Santa Ana Legion auxiliary.

It was the special membership dinner of the Santa Ana group, to which all Orange county Legion auxiliaries were invited. As is the custom on occasions of visits from the department president, the after-dinner session featured initiation of candidates not only for the hostess auxiliary, but for those from other sections of the county.

Dinner Hour
Guests approaching 200 in number assembled for the dinner hour planned by the Santa Ana group, and served by men of Legion Post No. 131. This assistance, which is a tradition here, won the commendation of Mrs. Chess, who declared that in her experience in visiting various California auxiliaries, she had never encountered such aid from any Legion.

Tables radiated from the speakers' table, and were gay with sweet peas in triple vases. Corsage clusters of the blossoms marked places for special guests, and Mrs. Chess as inspiration for the hospitality, wore orchids with her graceful frock of blue and silver brocade, with its rose-velvet ribbons.

Beulah Duckett (Mrs. Smith Duckett), president of Santa Ana auxiliary, and her sister officers with visiting county and department officers were at the speakers' table. Mrs. Duckett presented individuals in the group as climax to the short song program with which Auxiliary Juniors opened the meeting. The little maids made a charming picture grouped on the stage to sing "Alice Blue Gown" and a special arrangement of "Beautiful Lady" addressed to Mrs. Chess. This ended with the collection in a rustic yellow basket, of nosegays of violets which each one carried, and their presentation to the guest of honor. Mrs. Harold Brown directed and accompanied the young singers, who were accorded a special table for the dinner hour, with their advisors, Mrs. Eugene Robinson.

New Appointment
Introductions beginning with the department president, continued with her announcement of the appointment of Josephine Lykke as department chairman of music. This formal announcement met with keen interest, for Mrs. Lykke as a member of the Auxiliary quartet, and of the once-active Auxiliary Glee club, is a leader in musical events in local, state and national auxiliaries. She is also a past president of Santa Ana and Orange county auxiliaries, and is prominent in all their activities.

Other department and county officers present were Nella Norton, Newport; Vivian Nicodemus, Brea; Vera Barry, Huntington Beach; Fannie Reeves, Santa Ana; Pauline Cleary, Tustin; Anna Cramer, Costa Mesa; Bernice Mohn, Huntington Beach; Lucille Sullivan, Santa Ana; Katherine Allen, Huntington Beach; Lois Corcoran, Santa Ana; Ruby Mayes, Seal Beach; Gladys Stein, Laguna Beach; Irene Ware and Clara Noble, Riverside; Jean Gaddis, Anaheim; Frances Logan and Gertrude Cleary, Tustin.

Lieut. C. A. Schmidt, who has aided the local drill team in mastering his maneuvers, was presented also with Mrs. Schmidt, as was Mrs. R. R. Dinsmore of Riverside, wife of the district commander. Mrs. Tona Sandon (Mrs. Robert R. Sandon) president of Orange County council, presented council officers present, Gertrude Cleary, Pauline Cleary, Blanche Roepke, Gladys Stein, Adah Kirkpatrick and Mary Crowe.

Auxiliary unit presidents in attendance headed of course by Mrs. Duckett, were Madge Holden, Anaheim; Mary Crowe, Brea; Geraldine Grupe, Costa Mesa; Bernice Mohn, Huntington Beach; Mary Foster, Laguna Beach; Jennie Long, La Habra; Urna Davis, Orange; Beulah Hamilton, Tustin. Introductions included also Miss Louise Tubbs, Past President's club; Mrs. Amy Stewart, Legion Mothers club; Mrs. Ruth O'Malley, V.F.W. auxiliary president; Mrs. James Wylie, Jack Fisher D.A.V. auxiliary president; Miss Mary Alice Eklund, Junior auxiliary president; Dorothy Jewell, 21st District president; Ethel Marsh, past department president; Beatrice Trumbull, department officer, and many others.

Drill Team
Prominent in the subsequent business session, was the floor work of the local drill team under leadership of Lucille Sullivan. In their trim uniforms, the members aroused special commendation for their graceful maneuvers in escort duties and initiation rites. Santa Ana initiates were Mary Gold, Cora Risch, Alice Duckett, Gennette Bowers, Genevieve Berkeimer, Jenice Howe and Lois Wells. From other county units were Louise Nelson, Marie Lybarger, Kathleen Toms, Edith Scott, Anaheim; Dorothy Lou Kimball, Edith; Harold S. Carnahan, Tustin; May Souther, Gladys Foster, Viola Robm, Beverly Riggers, Bertha Edwards, Brea; Mary Sawhill, Esther Simpson, Lola May Green, La Habra. Musical numbers preceding initiation featured Bruce Buell, one of the community's favorite young singers, in a vocal group with his mother, Amy W. Buell, as accompanist. He sang three num-

Music Chairman

(Mary Smart Studio)

Mrs. Andrew Lykke, long prominent in Santa Ana Legion auxiliary, has been appointed music chairman for the California department. She was a member of the Auxiliary Glee club which gained popularity in state and national conclaves, and is now a member of the Auxiliary quartet, which is achieving similar fame.

Sigma Tau Psi Install
New Staff of Officers

Electing and installing new officers, members of Sigma Tau Psi sorority met last night in the home of the retiring president, Mrs. Terry Stephenson jr., 926 Lacy street. Miss Virginia Graves now holds the presidency.

Others taking office with Miss Graves were Miss Charlotte Barker, vice president; Miss Lois Hunter, secretary and national director; Miss Dorothy Frazier, reporter. Miss Ruth Wasson was re-elected treasurer.

Plans were made for a rush tea to be held Sunday, February 12 in the home of Mrs. L. A. Turner, 908 North Bristol street, with officers of the chapter to be in the receiving line. Miss Betty Hart will be formally initiated into the sorority on that day. Informal rites for Miss Hart will be conducted at a meeting next Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Max Wilson on North Parton street.

Get-Together Club

Valentine party plans were made by Get-Together club members at their latest meeting in the home of Mrs. A. B. Larson, 506 South Parton street. The approaching event will take place February 8 in the home of Mrs. E. Olson on South Main street. In addition to a Valentine exchange, there will be other special features.

Nine members shared the recent hospitality. Chinese checkers were played during the informal afternoon.

Announcements

Veteran Rebekahs will hold a monthly meeting Friday in I. O. O. F. hall, where dinner will be served at noon. Members and friends are invited to attend this feature. Business session will begin at 2:15 p. m.

Torosa Sewing Circle will meet Thursday in the home of Mrs. Martha Vandewalker, 422 South Birch street, where covered-dish luncheon will be served at noon. Members are requested to bring table service.

Phi Sigma Fraternity will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the home of Louis Tadlock, 690 West First street, Tustin. This will be an informal rush party.

Jubilettes will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the home of Mrs. A. V. Newell, 1310 South Van Ness avenue. Members unable to attend are asked to notify the hostess.

Santa Ana Community Players and the many Barn program enthusiasts were notified today that a monthly meeting scheduled for Thursday night at the Barn had been cancelled. Mrs. H. H. Benjamin, who was to have given the program, is ill, it was announced today by Mrs. Burr Shafer, director of the Players.

Worthwhile club will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock with Mrs. George Ebersole, 118 West Nineteenth street.

Valentine Idea Prevails
At Bridal Shower

Since the wedding of Miss Ruth Switzer and Charles Elliott will take place on Valentine's day, it seemed appropriate indeed that Mrs. Fay Whitten and her daughter, Miss Alice Whitten should observe a heart motif last night in details of a party at which they feted the bride-elect.

The hostesses' home, 726 Orange avenue, was scene of the hospitality, for which all decorations were in red and white. Prizes in games were won by Mrs. Charles Morgan and Miss Phyllis Gerrard while Mrs. Frank Clark and Mrs. C. G. Seamans were winners in Chinese checkers.

The approach of St. Valentine's day was indicated in features of the refreshments as well as the appointments. White sweetpeas in a red bowl centered the dining room table, which was lighted with white tapers. Covers of appropriate motif spread smaller tables. During the shower which highlighted the evening, Miss Switzer came into possession of a complete set of pyrex.

Sharing the hospitality of the two hostesses were the honoree, Miss Switzer and her mother, Mrs. H. A. Switzer; Mrs. M. J. Switzer and Mrs. C. G. Seamans, grandmothers of the engaged couple; Mrs. C. P. Elliott, mother of the bridegroom; and a dozen and a half close friends.

Recent Bride Inspires
Gala Hospitality

First to compliment Mrs. Donald E. Warhurst (Arlene Hoffman) following recent announcement of her wedding last August was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Bain jr., who entertained last night in her home, 209 East Twentieth street.

Mrs. E. H. Warhurst assisted her daughter in receiving and in carrying out party plans. With Chinese checkers as diversion prizes went to Mrs. Leo Millings and the honoree. The new Mrs. Warhurst then was presented with an assortment of miscellaneous shower gifts.

The hostess and her mother served refreshments in a charming setting. On a large table were laid bridegroom and bride figures as background for a bridal bouquet of gardenias. Small tables bore mirrored centerpieces of silver bubble bowls filled with roses, forget-me-nots and mignonette, with miniature bridal couples of special interest. Two dozen or more friends shared the happy evening.

New Club Officers

Next week's meeting of Te Makai Aikane club with Miss Marguerite McCarty, will be the first under direction of officers elected when Miss Marian Paul entertained in her home, 726 South Birch street. New officers are the Misses Marguerite McCarty, president; Marian Paul, vice president and treasurer; Mylred Peddy, secretary and publicity chairman; and Maxine Thompson, sergeant-at-arms. Completing the club membership are Helen Taylor, Dorothy Rosenbaum, Norma Terrell and Dorothy Pennington.

Philanthropy Section
Gives Benefit Party

Philanthropy section members raised a nice sum for their current welfare project Tuesday afternoon by giving a benefit party in Veterans hall. Mesdames G. V. Linsbard, William Kenny, E. O. Ahern, Jennie Clem and Miss Linda Kroeker formed the committee. Sandwiches, cookies and coffee were served from a table brightened with peach blossoms. Pouring coffee were Mrs. Linsbard and Mrs. S. May Mathews. Ranks and Waldron's Jewelry store supplied prizes which were won by Mesdames Fred Anderson, Nanie Myers and J. G. Linbird in contract, auction and Chinese checkers.

Announcement was made that Mrs. Kenny will give another benefit event for the section February 14 at 1 p. m. in her home, 829 South Sycamore street. Proceeds will aid in paying for a wheel chair which the section has purchased for an elderly man.

Chapter Members Share
Pleasant Hospitality

Mrs. Franklin G. West's home, 321 East Santa Clara avenue, was bright with quantities of flowers Monday afternoon for a meeting of chapter DI P. E. O. Miss Lula Minter and Miss Margaret Esau were co-hostesses with Mrs. West. Following luncheon, Mrs. S. W. Nau conducted a business meeting. An amusing as well as informative talk on "Dogs" was given by Mrs. Robert Northcross.

On Ninth Birthday

Miss Jackie Shidler assembled a little group of guests after school yesterday for a party in celebration of her ninth birthday. The home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Shidler, 1129 South Garvey street, was scene of the event, shared by Miss Jackie with Doris Miller, Dolores Banks, Barbara June Moore, Patsey Jordan, Alice Jean Phillips, Marilyn Stevens, Joyce Mathews and Joan Bell. Of this group, the Misses Patsey, Joan and Alice Jean won prizes in games.

White pottery candlesticks and flower containers held yellow tapers and blossoms adorning the lace-spread table at which ice cream roll and chocolate were served with birthday cake. The pretty confection was lighted with candles in bird holders. There were gifts for the honoree.

Luncheon For Club

Bridge club members took part in a pleasant event yesterday afternoon at Danigers, where Mrs. Charles Givens was hostess. Many colorful flowers added charm to the setting.

Mrs. Bruce Monroe, a guest, held high score in cards. Members winning laurels were Mrs. Richard Couden and Mrs. Don Andrews. Three tables of bridge were in play.

At Irvine Park

Mrs. Joseph Irwin received members of her bridge club yesterday afternoon in her home at Irvine park. Rosebuds centered tables at which dessert was served in advance of card play. To the hostess' sister, Mrs. George Horton, a guest, went first prize, while Mrs. Terry Stephenson jr. scored second high. Two tables of cards were in play.

You and Your Friends

Mrs. M. A. Tate and daughter, Miss Edna Tate, 340 West Nineteenth street and their nephew and cousin, Clarence McNeally of Los Angeles plan to leave this week for Omaha, Neb., where they will spend a few months. Mr. Tate is remaining at home.

Mrs. George Perkins, 2415 Riverside Drive, who underwent an operation a week ago at St. Joseph hospital, is reported making a satisfactory recovery. However, she is not able to receive visitors. Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Brown and their tiny twin son and daughter have arrived from Los Angeles for a few days' visit with Mrs. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hess, 1024 West Third street. Mrs. Brown will be remembered as Miss Ardath Hess.

Miss Ruth Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wagner, 1714 Bush street, has returned home from a four months' stay in New York City. Where she spent much time with an uncle and aunt, and visited also with Miss Margaret Schlichting of Westchester. She stopped at points in Texas and in Washington, D. C., enroute east, but came directly home through a snowy landscape that prevailed from New York until the night before. Mrs. M. P. Cumberworth, 1011 North Flower street, and her cousin, Mrs. Henry Mueller of Orange spent Monday in Riverside with the former's sister, Mrs. E. G. Smith, who is recuperating from hip injuries sustained in a recent accident. Mrs. Smith, who was in a local hospital for a time, is reported making a satisfactory recovery.

Mrs. Orestell Whitecross of Atolia has returned to her home after a three weeks' visit with her grandmother, Mrs. Estelle Wilson, South Sycamore street, who has been ill. Donald C. Gilbert of Salt Lake City, who is here as a guest of his father, Guy J. Gilbert, 529 South Parton street, and other relatives, was complimented last night at a family dinner party at which his aunt, Miss Cora Kurlle, was hostess in her home, 2407 French street.

BOLSA

BOLSA, Feb. 1.—A houseguest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Vogelzang is Mrs. Wierheim of Artesia, 78 year old woman who has just returned from her fourth trip to her native Holland. She made the eight months trip alone and has many interesting details to tell. Mr. and Mrs. Vandenberg of Artesia, her son-in-law and daughter with whom Mrs. Wierheim makes her home, brought the visitor here and were also guests in the Vogelzang home. Sunday was spent by Mr. and Mrs. George Vogelzang and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Vogelzang in Los Angeles with Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Bailey, son-in-law and daughter of the George Vogelzangs. Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Wallingford have returned from a week-end stay in San Diego in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wallingford.

Old Kentucky Home
Reproduced For Party

Seldom have the words and sentiments of "My Old Kentucky Home" been more cleverly applied than they were Monday afternoon, as the theme of a luncheon at which Miss Mary Archer, 419 Vance street, received a group of old friends from Owensboro, Ky., as a courtesy to her house-guest, Mrs. Sade Birk Evans.

Mrs. Evans has been spending the winter in Los Angeles, but came down a few days ago to visit her girlhood friend, Miss Archer. In anticipation of her visit, the latter had designed a Kentucky scene for a table centerpiece, which aroused every lovely childhood memory of her guests. A quaint little log house nestled down in its meadows of true Kentucky blue grass, with Negro quarters in the rear, a tiny "barrel stove" hammock swinging beneath the trees, and all manner of animals roaming over the surrounding meadows.

Much of the afternoon's entertainment was found in discovering new details in the delightful little scene, all of which is enclosed with a rail fence. No less interesting however were reminiscences of friendly days back in Kentucky, shared by the hostess and her honor guest, Mrs. Evans with Mrs. Rolla Hays of Balboa Island; Mesdames Jennie Crawford, Charles G. Nalle and Vee Hill of this city; Mrs. C. W. Hudson of Long Beach, with her daughter, Mrs. Gaines, visiting here from Kansas City; Mrs. C. M. Root, spending the winter in Los Angeles, and her niece, Miss Margaret Stanley.

Fifth Household Group
Has Luncheon, Bridge

Ebelle Fifth Household Economics section members assembled yesterday at the Doris Kathryn for luncheon arranged by a hostess quartet composed of Mesdames J. L. Marshall, S. A. Jones, E. A. Watson and B. J. McReynolds.

The group continued to Ebelle clubhouse lounge, where iris, Chinese lilies and other flowers were used in decorating. Half a dozen tables of cards were in play with the result that Mrs. Marguerite Borgmeyer and Mrs. H. C. Kirk won prizes for the two high scores.

For Birthday Maid

Little Miss Nancy Powell's third birthday anniversary on Monday, January 30, was given happy observance this week by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Powell of 817 North Bristol street.

Merry out of door games were enjoyed by children of the party, before they were called within doors to join their parents in the enjoyment of ice cream and birthday cake, with an individual birthday cake for each one. Valentine colors were used, and there were gay red hats and balloons as favors for each small guest.

There were many birthday gifts as well for little Miss Nancy, from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowman and son Bruce of Balboa Island; Mr. and Mrs. Harlo Powell and children, Sally, Edwin and Alfred of Burbank; Mrs. Roy Lindsay and grandson, Bobby Callis of San Juan Capistrano, and Jerry Neilson of this city.

HOLLYWOOD, February 1.—Something's got to be done about the double-billing system, and the best proof of the emergency is the appalling dearth of new story material in Hollywood. Every studio in the business has been re-making old favorites. Nine re-makes of old pictures are now in production; seven are currently playing first-run theaters. That's a desperate remedy for a chronic ailment, and it can only offer a temporary respite.

Dual-billing has obliged Hollywood to produce twice as many pictures as were produced seven or eight years ago when the industry was healthy. Theaters now demand approximately 500 new pictures each year—and there aren't that many good stories to be had. In an average year, the stage supplies only five or six suitable vehicles; published novels provide material for perhaps twenty more; short stories, amplified and padded by studio scenarists, can be counted on for about thirty suitable screen plots. And that leaves the studios in need of more than 400 scripts. It's small wonder, considering those facts, that the quality of the average picture is falling far below par.

There's just one reason why dual-billing continues. The exhibitors, each one in a dither because his competitor down the street may be able to offer more for the customer's money, are too terrified to get together and end an evil that no one wants. They never will get together until you fans take the situation in hand and make your demand for better pictures unmistakable.

ODD-FORMATION: Ramon Novarro's real name is Jose Ramon Gil del Sagrado Corazon de Jesu Samaniego y Guerrero—try that one on your local billboards. Make-up men use a grain of puffed wheat in building up a mole on an actor's cheek. Rate Lew Ayres as Hollywood's Number One hobby-horseman—he's an organist, composer, astronomer, chess puzzler, book collector, painter, sculptor, and candid camera addict. There's a lot of publicity about George Raft's $40 shoes, but Hollywoodites aren't impressed—they remember when Maurice Chevalier imported his at $100 a pair.

No foolin', Marlene Dietrich can play a musical saw. Garbo's the one star with a perfect attendance record—during her thirteen years in pictures, she's never once been late in reporting on the set. The "B" and "P" sounds are the hardest for ventriloquists to use, since both require pronounced lip action. Bob Hope is one of seven brothers—all professional comedians. Anita Louise, the most fragile looking of all Filmville gals, is a fencer of near championship caliber.

The Ugigi tribesmen used in location scenes (shot in Africa by Mrs. Osa Johnson) for "Stanley and Livingstone" were given a cup of sugar apiece as a daily wage. Walter Huston was a hockey star in his college days. Reptiles—particularly snakes—can be used only a few moments at a time in picture scenes; the intense light kills them. Add strange careers: that of Alice Dahl, Hollywood's professional screamer. Wallace Ford started his acting career as a circus clown.

Nelson Eddy collects Tang dynasty porcelain horses. Not long ago, perhaps while suffering from pre-matrimonial confusion, he heard that a perfect specimen had been acquired by a San Francisco importer. Nelson flew North to investigate—and the dealer regret-

LOOK GIRLS—A NEW STYLE!
PATTERN 4041
By ANNE ADAMS

Girls, treat yourself to a dress that fairly breathes the spirit of Spring, and is REALLY useful! Could anything fit this description better than bolero-frock Pattern 4041? Anne Adams just designed it—keeping the stitching simple so that even though you are a novice with a needle you'll enjoy your task. The bodice back laps over to the front as a little yoke. And look how cute the skirt is, cut bias from a novelty stripe print! The high waistline will make your willowy slimmest still more slender and beguiling. Two neckline and sleeve designs and versatility... and don't forget what a boon the bolero will be as a street jacket all spring!

Pattern 4041 is available in junior and misses' sizes 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 14 takes 3 1/2 yards 35 inch fabric, and 1 1/2 yards lace edging.

fully told him that the porcelain horse had been sold to a Los Angeles dealer. Nelson came back, telephoned the local dealer, found that the horse had been sold and asked that it be traced. "Give me the name of the man who has it now," he urged. Five minutes the dealer came back to the phone with a report. He said he'd sold it to a movie star named Nelson Eddy.

After watching Grace Moore, Lily Pons and some of the other singers who have warbled from the screen, suffer for weeks while preparing to record their songs, it's refreshing to see the nonchalant with which Bing Crosby tackles the job. Yesterday at 2 p. m., we were playing cards at the Lakeside country club. Suddenly Bing threw down his hand with a gesture of annoyance. "I've got to go over to Universal and record two songs," he said. "Hold my place—I'll be back by four." And he beat his estimate by a good fifteen minutes.

Leon G. Turrou, who, as a G-Man, cracked the so-called Nazi spy ring, has given up sleuthing for a movie career. He will play a minor bit in Warner Brother's "Confessions of a Nazi Spy." And here's the inevitable Hollywood irony. Edward G. Robinson, the picture's star, will play the role Turrou created in real life. Copyright, 1939, McNaught Syn., Inc.

The Mixing Bowl

BY ANN MEREDITH

There is no need to cry when peeling onions if you will stand directly in front of a window open on a line with your eyes and nose. If a little wind is blowing, so much the better, if not, turn on a small electric fan to create a draft.

What do you do when the recipe says "add 12 drops of fresh onion juice"? You know how literally brides take cooking directions, sometimes! A young friend of mine with a practical turn of mind thought that if a hard lemon could be squeezed to produce juice, the lemon squeezer would work equally well with an onion, so, she tried the idea and it did work... now, you know how to obtain juice the easy way.

"Extremely fine chopped chives, beet tops, carrots (root part?) or anything else with color, sprinkled over clear soups just before serving is an honest-to-goodness Bohemian custom that deserves more common usage."

Gaining weight is an easy and pleasant occupation. Losing it is something else again, unless pride comes to your rescue. After candid appraisal before a mirror, you decide you can't let those extra pounds ruin your good times. I suggest that you do this: write to me for our new diet sheet with its combined offering of three standard reducing diets. Send no money, but do enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NEIGHBORHOOD DISHES
Oyster Loaf
1 large fresh loaf of bread

1 quart of frying oysters
2 beaten eggs
Cracker meal
Salt, pepper and paprika
Fat for frying oysters
1 can cream of mushroom soup
Chili sauce, as required
Butter, parsley and lemon slices.
—my recipe.

First, remove all crusts from the loaf of bread, leaving the top crust in one solid slab. With a sharp knife, cut out center of loaf to leave a box with sides a scant inch thick. Spread with soft butter, inside and out, stand on a cookie sheet and toast slowly in a medium hot oven.

While the loaf is toasting, dip rinsed and drained oysters in egg, then in cracker meal and fry to a golden brown. Keep hot on another sheet until all are fried, and the loaf ready, then—

Set the loaf box on a hot platter, arrange oysters in layers, squeezing lemon juice, salt and pepper over each layer. When the oysters are nicely settled, pour this sauce over them and poke down with a fork. Heat the can of soup and as it heats dilute it with chili sauce until like thick cream. Taste and add seasonings. Cover filled box with the toasted upper crust and garnish platter with parsley and lemon slices. Cut down in thick slices for serving. The portions are eight. Toast center of loaf to use as "pushers" with the oysters and gravy.

Here is an ideal salad to serve with the oyster loaf.

Pickled Apple and Beet Salad

SERIAL STORY

NO TIME TO MARRY

BY ELINORE COWAN STONE

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

At last Janet realizes she loves Barney, she tells him how much she needs him. Then Cynthia returns and she has changed too, Janet finds.

CHAPTER XXI

NOW Cynthia went on with a hesitation unusual for her. "I saw the papers, Jan. Of course I'm glad about you and Barney. I do hope you're really happy. But I was surprised."

"I was—a little surprised, myself," Janet said, patting a sofa pillow into place, holding her eyes carefully on what she was doing. "Of course we should have waited longer if we had known you and Mr. Benton would be at home so soon, Cyn. But Aunt Mary had particularly asked that we shouldn't postpone the ceremony because of—on her account. . . . But how is Timothy?"

She was thinking that in a few moments she must say something to Cynthia about the bills for Aunt Mary's illness and burial. She hated to; but they were enormous—the hospital bill alone had been staggering—and Aunt Mary's small bank account had long ago melted away. She couldn't expect Barney to shoulder the whole expense. Cynthia wouldn't want him to, of course.

Cynthia stood up abruptly as if Janet's question about her husband had suddenly recalled her to an urgent present.

"I must get back to Tim, Janet. He had a temperature this morning. He caught cold on the train, and on top of all his other worry, it's got him down. . . . I—I never saw Tim sunk before. It scares me, Jan."

"Worry?" Janet asked a little blankly. "You mean about Aunt Mary?"

Cynthia, who had stooped to pick up her hat, turned incredulously.

"You don't mean that you haven't heard, Jan?" she demanded. "It was all in the papers."

"What, Cyn? I—honestly, I don't know."

"I suppose you wouldn't. I didn't know myself until yesterday that Hollowell and Benton haven't been making any money for the last six months. And you see, everything else Tim had been invested in oil. Well, the other day the oil company blew up. We're practically flat, Jan."

So that was it! Janet cried softly, "Oh, Cynthia!"

And again, "Oh, Cynthia, my dear!"

It seemed the most grotesque of ironies that this should have happened to Cynthia. How doubly tragic to have staked everything on a marriage with a man you did not really love, playing for ease and security, and then to have not even these!

A man you did not really love! And what have I done? Janet thought. I'm no better than Cynthia.

Without turning from the mirror where she had been arranging her hat, Cynthia said abruptly, with one of those flashes of insight which made her so unpredictable, "I know what you're thinking, Jan—that having married Tim for his money, as of course I did, I'm probably getting ready to lie on the floor and kick and scream over the mess I've got myself into."

Janet, who had been thinking exactly that, could find no immediate words.

"But perhaps you remember," Cynthia went on, facing Janet, her dark head high, "that first night—when Tim got so beautifully plastered. I told you then that I'd made my bargain and I'd stick to it. Well, that still goes. . . . And now I've got to run."

"Cynthia, wait!" Janet called swiftly. "Where is he?"

"At the Templeton House."

"Can you move him safely?"

"I don't believe moving him could possibly be so bad for him as staying there. It's noisy, and he hates hotels, anyhow."

"Then you must bring him here. Barney and I were only staying anyhow until you got back. There are so many places vacant now that it won't take me more than a few hours to find a furnished apartment that will do us beautifully until we can get really settled. And the rent's paid here for the rest of the month, Cyn—most of it with Timothy Benton's money—but I suppose you know that. I only found it out by accident. Aunt Mary never did know."

CYNTHIA did not speak for a long time. When Janet, wondering, turned to look at her cousin, she saw that her sensitive mouth was quivering like a little girl's, and that the eyes that always used to be so carefully amused were flooded with tears.

"I didn't know, either. Tim's like that," Cynthia said. "When he does something kind, he hates to have anyone know anything about it. . . . Janet, he's the kindest man I ever knew."

Janet said, "I know, Cynthia. I think I knew the first time I saw him that he was like that. . . . Aunt Mary knew, too. She told Barney that you'd used your head for the first time in your life when you married him."

"Did she? I'm glad. . . . I wanted to write her the truth, Jan; but—well, I know you both thought I was always play-acting. And I was. You see, it's always been the hardest thing in the world for me to be natural about—things that really mattered to me. Now I'm going to tell you the truth. I'm crazy about Tim. I'll bring him as soon as I can get him ready."

When Janet called Barney and told him about her talk with Cynthia, he agreed promptly that they must find another apartment that day if possible.

Janet went out in a flutter of excitement. It would be fun, house hunting for her first home. There were, as she had confidently predicted, a great many places for rent. But most of them, it developed, were large, and in the upper price brackets. Finding a small furnished apartment that measured up to her dreams at the rent Barney had mentioned as top price was not such child's play as she had anticipated.

Eventually she did find, on a rather shabby street, one which she told herself a little grudgingly would have to do till she had time to canvass the situation more exhaustively.

IT had a living room, a small bedroom, a tiny bath, and a kitchen with a breakfast nook—all pretentiously designed and cheaply executed. Even by the flattering light of late afternoon, it left a great deal to be desired. The ivory paint was pock-marked in spots; there was a stain in the corner of the bathroom ceiling where water had leaked in from above; the carpet was definitely moth-eaten in the corners; the upholstery of the chairs was dingy; and the other furniture was scarred here and there by glass rims and the cigar butts of former tenants. . . . At that, Janet had to pay a little more than the amount Barney stipulated.

If she remembered with a pang of yearning the white house on the hillside, she angrily brushed the thought aside. After all, this was fairly clean and comfortable; and practically everything, the janitor told her, was furnished. He promised to repaint the bath room and put fresh linoleum in the kitchen with an eager volubility which might have made a more experienced house hunter suspicious.

Barney came to the Breckenridge in time to help bundle Timothy Benton into bed. He greeted Cynthia like a long-lost sister, and had them all laughing in no time at all.

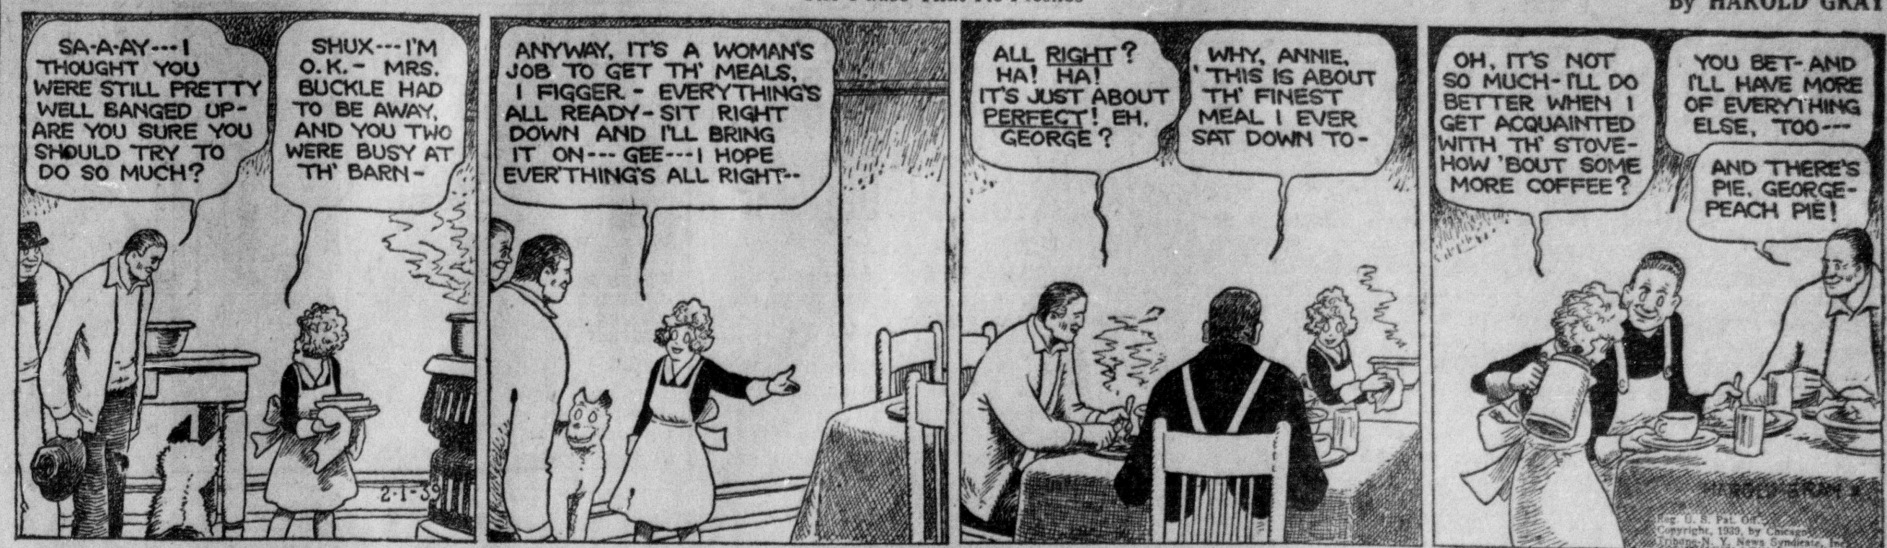

But when, in the general excitement, Janet really looked at him for the first time, she noticed that he seemed very tired. If he had not been Barney, she would have said worried.

COUGHING AND SNEEZING

"Who was that?" asked Miss Jane, looking up from the book she was marking. Nobody in the class made a sign.

"Who sneezed?"

Immediately forty-seven hands went up and forty-six voices said, "Tootsie, Tootsie did it."

"I thought so. Tootsie, you've been coughing and sneezing all morning. You'd better go home, dear. Get your hat and coat and take this note home with you. Maybe you will be better in the morning and you can come back again."

Tootsie, sniffing and coughing, a short hard cough, took the note and went out of the door in deep dejection. The teacher had even refused to let Tillie go home with her. Tillie always went home with her. It was mean of Teacher. Tillie thought so too.

Tootsie did not return the next day, nor for many days. She had whooping cough. About two weeks afterward another child coughed, and another, and the class dropped bit by bit in ones and twos so that by the end of the month only a handful of youngsters remained. These had had their whooping coughs before entering school and so had been immune to the germs that Tootsie had sprayed about the place.

It is doubtful, of course, but the chance is worth the taking, that had Tootsie been held at home in isolation until that sneezing and coughing had passed or developed, many of the other children might have escaped. Certainly Tootsie's presence in the classroom and on the lines, in the playground, spread the trouble. And whooping cough is plenty of trouble.

The idea is that all children must have these diseases sooner or later, and keeping them away from infected children is not much good. They are going to get it, we say, so why not get it over with? But they need not "get it." THEY CAN BE PROTECTED AGAINST the infections, sometimes by inoculations. If this is possible we owe it to the children to see that they get every possible safeguard.

There was a time when diphtheria was one of these childhood diseases, something that all parents dreaded. It is a cruel disease and it used to take thousands of children every year. Now, thanks to modern medicine, it rarely gets one. But children must be inoculated against it, a cheap price to pay for their safety.

The vaccinations and other forms of inoculation that prevent diseases in childhood should be given by the physicians who know the children. A family physician is a family friend. Nobody likes to do these things, of course. They are unpleasant, but that is about the worst one can say about them. Compared to the deadly illnesses they prevent the processes are nothing.

If a child is unfortunate enough to fall ill, isolate him for his own sake and for that of the other children in the community. That is only decent. But protect him first by all the means our modern doctors know.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply. (Copyright, 1939, The Bell Syn., Inc.)

AUTOMOTIVE NEWS

Automobile Club Gives Outline Of Permissible Tax Reductions

With income tax time just around the corner, the Automobile Club of Southern California has furnished the following information regarding certain deductions which can be made for sums paid out or losses sustained in connection with ownership and operation of automobiles. Substantially the same deductions are permitted under both federal income tax law and the California personal income tax law. Federal tax returns must be made by March 15 and State returns by April 15.

Deductible items summarized by legal experts of the club include: All sums paid during the calendar year as registration fees, vehicle license fees, personal property taxes, and municipal taxes.

Insurance On Car
Interest on money borrowed for the purchase of an automobile. The amount of financing charges on automobiles purchased which covers the interest on the loan, when specifically set forth in the contract, but not the amount covering the premium on insurance to protect the finance company's interest.

Automobile insurance on cars used for business purposes. Uncompensated losses sustained by reason of damage to automobiles used for business or pleasure.

Damage paid for injuries to persons or for destruction of property, provided the automobile was being used for business at the time of the accident.

Depreciation Ruling
Loss sustained when a car used for business is sold outright at a price less than its depreciated value. (Loss sustained where an automobile used for business is traded in for a new car cannot be deducted, but such loss can be considered as part of the cost when computing the depreciation for the ensuing year.)

Where a purchaser of an automobile takes delivery out of state for use in this state even though it is purchased from a retailer in this state, or where the purchaser buys the car from a retailer outside the state and brings the car into California for use, the California Use Tax Act imposes a tax upon the consumer and whatever the tax paid by the consumer under this act is deductible.

Operating Costs
All operating costs and maintenance expenses, including depreciation, on automobiles used wholly for business, or a pro rata share of such expense representing business use where a passenger car is used for pleasure and business. Depreciation usually is figured at 20 per cent per annum. Where an employee receives an allowance or mileage from the employer for automobile operation, unless such allowance is declared as part of income no claim can be made by the employee for deduction of operating expenses.

Non-deductible items include the California and federal gasoline tax and the federal taxes on lubricating oil, tires, tubes, accessories, new cars and trucks. A federal ruling is that these taxes are imposed upon the manufacturer or distributor, not upon the consumer.

No deduction can be made for the amount paid for an automobile used for either business or pleasure, this being a capital expenditure and subject to claim for depreciation where the automobile is used for business.

NATIONAL TRAFFIC STUDY UNDER WAY

Announcement of the first nationwide study of traffic law enforcement through surveys of traffic courts and the enforcement work of police was made yesterday by the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

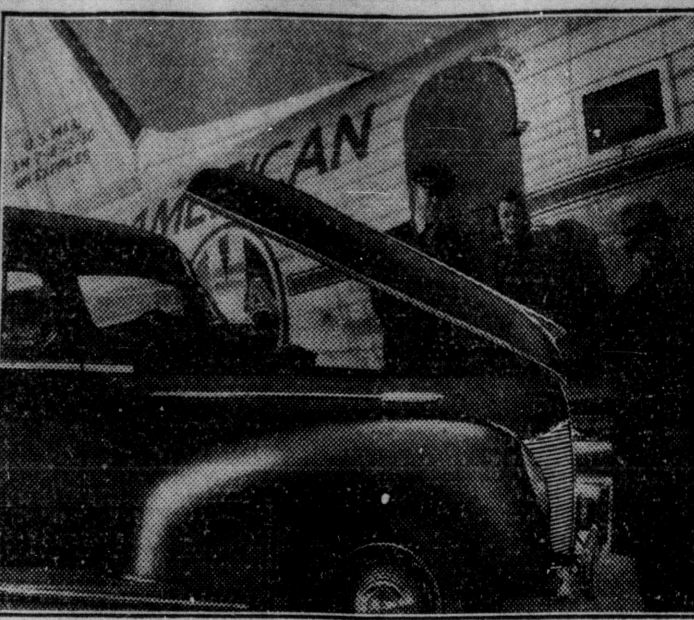

The purpose of the study will be to develop standards of traffic law enforcement from the practices now being followed in various sections of the country. A grant of $12,000 for the studies was made by the Automotive Safety Foundation.

Foreign Sales For Year Are Steady

Sales of General Motors cars and trucks to dealers in the overseas markets during 1938 totaled 354,188 units, representing a decline of only 2.6 per cent from sales in the 12 months ending Dec. 31, 1937, the corporation reveals.

December sales were 27,524 units, compared with 29,070 units in December, 1937.

Hudson Hood Hinged For Safety

Hudson's new Dash-Locking Safety Hood, like an airplane door, is hinged at the front and cannot blow open because wind only tends to close it tighter. Locked by a latch operated from the driver's seat, theft of car or parts is minimized because when the car is locked the hood is locked. Photo shows J. A. Purdy, Director of Safety for the Michigan Mutual Liability Company, pointing out the safety features of the hood to Captain M. D. Ator and Stewardess Agnes Spence of the American Airlines.

FORD ADDS TWO NEW "WAGONS" IS PROMISING

To meet the ever-increasing demand for an automobile that combines the beauty and comfort of passenger car with the utility of a commercial vehicle, the Ford Motor Co. announces two new types of station wagons for 1939, according to George Dunton, local Ford dealer.

Popular Style
An indication of the rapidly increasing popularity of the station wagon type of commercial car is the fact that sales of this model in the Los Angeles area have been consistently on an upward trend in recent years. In 1937 Southland motorists bought more than twice as many Ford V-8 station wagons as in 1936, and in 1938 they bought more than in 1937, sales figures show.

Utility Vehicle
The de luxe Ford V-8 station wagon is appropriately styled for settings that call for beauty, yet it can also be used for dozens of varied tasks such as transporting supplies and general utility work. The other model, the Ford V-8 station wagon, was designed especially for the workaday world where sturdiness and adaptability are the first requirements.

DETROIT, Michigan—A firm belief that automobile tire replacement sales during 1939 would exceed the high rate established during the latter part of 1938 was expressed here today by F. B. Davis, Jr., president, United States Rubber Company.

Davis, addressing the annual conference of district and divisional sales managers of the U. S. Tire Dealers Corp., said the outlook for the new year was most promising, and added that U. S. tire dealers throughout the country could look forward to a most satisfactory and profitable year. "The expressed views of many leaders of industry that the business trend would continue upward through 1939, and which confirms the promising factors that we see ourselves, all tend toward an increased volume in dollars and in units for the replacement tire business for this year," Davis said.

"Our company and U. S. tire dealers were never in a stronger position to get their share of this larger and more profitable sales volume. The introduction by U. S. of newer and more saleable products containing safety features that are held to represent most substantial progress have acted as a spur to the entire sales activities of U. S. dealers throughout the country.

"This, together with the momentum since the middle of 1938, makes the outlook for 1939 distinctly promising."

SLOW DRIVERS ARE MOTORISTS' BANE

Motorist, what is your pet peeve? Now check your answer against this list furnished by the Automobile Club of Southern California, obtained from a poll of average motorists attending an eastern automobile show.

Slow drivers, 2090 votes; road-hogging, 2065; failure to signal, 2023; horn-toting, 1861; cutting in, 1477; careless pedestrians, 1158; back-seat driving, 886; turning from wrong lane, 550, and double parking, 285.

Avoid Hazard In Mountain Trips In Warning Here

Play safe when visiting the mountain area during the winter season. Don't venture on snow-covered roads unless your automobile is equipped with skid chains, cautions Murray Rosenfeld, general manager of the Pep Boys of California.

"Traveling in the mountains un-equipped with chains may mean trouble not only for you but also for the thousands of other snow enthusiasts who yearly find enjoyment in winter sports," Rosenfeld stated recently.

"Slushy, snow covered highways offer little traction for the automobile tire. Once your car starts sliding on a slippery road it is difficult to bring it under control. Thus without the protection of skid chains, you may end up in the ditch or more seriously in the hospital.

"Every year finds additional thousands of people seeking relaxation and sports in the mountains. This means crowded roads and it is the driver who comes unprepared that slows up traffic and becomes a general highway nuisance because of his car's inability to move with the other autos at a comfortable rate of speed."

Automobile equipment to make trips pleasant as well as safe are being featured at the local Pep Boys store, 211 N. Main street.

The frigate bird, or man-of-war hawk, has a wing spread of seven feet from tip to tip, although its body is no larger than that of a hen.

REUNION OF CALKINS FAMILY MARRED BY DEATH OF PARENT

The reunion of 11 brothers and sisters of the Calkins family, including John Calkins, 1909 South Van Ness, Santa Ana, recently at Lenora, Okla., was but the second reunion of their lives at which all were present, yet it was one of the saddest events of their lives.

They were gathered at the bedside of their dying father, Albert James Calkins, who passed away January 15, aged 86.

Hurry To Old Home
John Calkins, Santa Ana, Harvey Calkins, Ontario, and Mrs. Effie Baker, El Segundo, among the brothers and sisters, drove to the Oklahoma community to be at their beloved father's bedside before his death. They had returned this week.

Two years ago in Pasadena, a picture was taken of five generations of the Calkins family, the late James Calkins, middle-aged pioneer; his daughter, Etta Henson, Willow, Okla.; Mrs. Henson's daughter, Mrs. Lillie Ketchum, Pasadena; Mrs. Ketchum's daughter, Opal; and Opal's small daughter.

Came Here In 1919
Funeral services for Mr. Calkins were held January 16 at Lenora and burial was by the side of his late wife, whom he married as Ellen Bingham in 1875. Mr. Calkins began his life near Cleveland, Ohio, May 1, 1852, moved to Jacksonville, Ill. at age two. When 21, he went to Kansas, was among the pioneers who broke the ground on which now stands Wichita.

In 1919, Mr. and Mrs. John Calkins came to California, lived in Santa Ana until 1922, then moved to the Pomona-Chino district to live until four years ago.

Young People's Day Observed

TUSTIN, Feb. 1.—Inaugurating what is to become an annual occasion, Young People's Sunday was observed Sunday at the First Presbyterian church of Tustin. Louis Ebel was in charge of the service. The auditorium was completely filled with members and friends, nearly one-third of the congregation being young people.

Philip Brooks Jr., read the Scripture lesson and Gene McCarter offered prayer. Short talks were made by Shirley McKibben, Bob Smith, Beth Kellams, Jay Harbour, June Louise Masin and Marian Carson. The Rev. Mr. Duncan talked briefly on "Living to the Hilt."

Under the direction of Mrs. Marie Daugherty, the a cappella choir of Tustin high school, sang "Holy, Holy, Holy!" and "Cherubim No. 7," (Bortnyansky). A quartet, composed of Virginia Matthews, Marian Carson, Charles Mueller and Harold Matthews sang "Somebody's Praying for You."

Legion Auxiliary At Indio Parley

COSTA MESA, Feb. 1.—Costa Mesa American Legion auxiliary members attended the district meeting the past week-end at Indio where Hattie Tait, Anna Cramer, Cora Bomboy and Geraldine Grupe. Mrs. Glenn Cramer of the auxiliary was among the guests at the recent past presidents' meeting held at the home of Mrs. Eugene Robinson in Santa Ana.

Mrs. Virginia Hopkins was initiated at the recent meeting of the Carpenters' auxiliary held at the home of Mrs. Fred Rosenbaum of Santa Ana.

Members of the High School Epworth league of the Costa Mesa Community church are holding a benefit program this evening at the Main school auditorium. Funds realized will be used to assist with expenses of attending the annual Epworth League convention Feb. 3, 4 and 5 at the First Methodist Episcopal church of Fullerton.

Members of the Ladies' Aid of the Costa Mesa Community church will be guests of honor at the midweek service according to announcement made by the church minister, the Rev. A. C. Abbe.

National Defense Meet Planned

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 1.—Legion Auxiliary of Laguna Beach will hold a special "National Defense" meeting at Legion Hall on Thursday evening, Feb. 2, at which the principal speaker will be Ray Smith, county chairman of the National Defense Committee of the American Legion. Mrs. Mary Foster, president of the auxiliary body, is completing arrangements for the important meeting, which will be open to the public. In the light of recently disclosed needs of national safeguards in every field of defense, chairman Smith's address is considered particularly timely, and a large attendance is being arranged for by committees appointed by Mrs. Foster. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p. m., sharp.

AND A V-8 ENGINE PROVED BY MORE THAN 5 MILLION OWNERS

THE quality "engine" in the Ford quality cars now has more than 5 million Ford V-8 owners to attest its economy, dependability and fine performance. Again for 1939, experience in building well has taught new ways to build still better and the present engine is both smoother and quieter-running than ever.

Throughout the car is other new evidence of extra built-in value. Bodies are impressively quiet and extremely comfortable.

Hydraulic brakes, rigidly held to Ford standards of precision and safety, now add to Ford handling ease.

Heading the line in style and extra luxury is the De Luxe Ford car. Its design is new, distinctive, and functional in origin. It is as outstanding in looks as it is in performance. Interior fittings carry to the last detail the new high standard set by its outward style.

Like Ford cars before it, this one is built to win respect—and to hold it. It reaffirms the Ford belief that praise from its owners is the best praise a car can have—and value is the way to that! Let it tell you at first hand what "Ford-built" means!
